Contents

List of Tables vii
List of Abbreviations viii
Glossary x
Preface xii
Introduction 1
1 Prison Life, 1775–1825: Popular Curiosity and Professional Interest 11
2 Death, Discipline and Depravity in Prison Factories, 1821–1850 30
3 Socialization by Social Isolation: Experiments with Penitentiaries in England and the USA 54
4 Barbarian Scaffold versus Civilized Solitude: From External to Internal Constraint 68
5 Penal Reality for a Prison Inspector, 1850–1886: The Suffering Behind the Death Rates 92
6 Cell Maniacs, Irish Sinners and Conservative Reactionaries: The System Controversy 111
7 Misery and Insanity: The Reality of Cell Life, 1886–1914 142
8 Wilful Sinners or Born Criminals: The Cell System Under Attack 177
9 Toughness and Leniency, 1918–1940: 'Deviations', Education, Incapacitation and Minimum Rules 211
Social Intercourse and Contacts with the Outside World 213
The Educational View: A Penal Civilizing Offensive 219
The Emancipation of Prisoners 221
The Harsh School of Thought 232
Making Up the Balance 236

10 Radical Reforms after the Occupation: The Abolition of the Cell System 244
Socializing and Self-restraint 246
Prisoner Emancipation Gathers Pace 253
Emancipation on Balance 274
11 Two Centuries of Imprisonment: Socio-Historical Explanations and Conclusions 290
Trend and Structure over Two Hundred Years 297
The Emancipation Process of Prisoners 312

Bibliography 332
Index 361

List of Tables

2.1 Mortality rate in prisons, 1837–50 39
2.2 Mortality rate in separate prisons, 1841–50 40
5.1 Mortality rate in prisons, 1851–80 94
5.2 Mortality rate in separate prisons, 1851–80 95
6.1 Registered suicide and insanity in prisons, 1846–85 129
7.1 Mortality rates in prisons, 1880–1909 148
7.2 Rates of insanity in prisons, 1887–1912 153
7.3 Clinical representations of insane prisoners, 1885–1915 166
7.4 Grief as a cause of insanity, 1885–1908 167
10.1 Suicide rate in prisons, 1956–1993 278
10.2 Parasuicide rate in prisons, 1965–1993 279