CONTENTS

Foreword 5

Foreword to the English Edition 9

Introduction 12

Chapter I. Modern Ideas on Experiencing 20
1. The Concept of Experiencing 20
2. The Problem of the Critical Situation 31
3. The Process of Experiencing 54

Chapter II. Typological Analysis of Regularities in Experiencing 83
1. Construction of a Typology of "Lived Worlds" 83
2. Type 1. The Internally Simple and Externally Easy Lived World 96
3. Type 2. The Internally Simple and Externally Difficult Lived World 104
4. Type 3. The Internally Complex and Externally Easy Lived World 114
5. Type 4. The Internally Complex and Externally Difficult Lived World 131

Chapter III. Lived World—Critical Situation—Experiencing: Correlation of Types 148
1. Correlation Between Critical Situations and Lived Worlds 148
2. Correlation Between the Types of Critical Situations and Types of Experiencing 159
3. From Ideal Types to the Specific Process 172

Chapter IV. Cultural-Historical Determination of Experiencing 184
1. Schematism of Consciousness 184
2. Crime and Experiencing of Rodion Raskolnikov 189

Chapter V. The Levels of Constructing Experiencing and Methods of Psychological Help. From the Theory of Experiencing to the Theory of Psychological Help 203
The Level of the Unconscious 205
The Level of Experiencing 208
The Level of Apprehension 211
The Level of Reflection 214
Appendix . Coping with Grief 221
Bibliography 235
Name Index 255
Subject Index 257