

Contents

---

List of figures	vii
List of tables	ix
List of contributors	xiii
Preface and acknowledgements	xv
Introduction Toshiaki Tachibanaki	xvii
1 Road to the top and executive management goals Toshiaki Tachibanaki	1
2 Determinants of top executives' promotion and remuneration Tomohiko Noda	36
3 Do positions and tenure of top executives affect their attitude? Hideshi Itoh and Hiroshi Teruyama	56
4 Path to becoming a manager: promotion, advancement and incentives for office workers Yoshinobu Kobayashi	79
5 Effort incentives: evidence from Japanese data Hideshi Itoh and Hiroshi Teruyama	97
6 Work incentives for white-collar workers: wages and promotion Naoki Mitani	126
7 White-collar careers in a large electronics company Hisakazu Matsushige	152
8 Does the name of the university matter? Isao Ohashi	176
9 Careers and work attitudes of engineers Yasunobu Tomita	195
10 White-collar careers and trade unions Fujikazu Suzuki	220
11 Conclusions Toshiaki Tachibanaki	242
Index	251