Contents

Series preface vii
Preface viii
List of abbreviations ix
The contributors xv

1. Introduction: Typology and grammaticalization 1
Heiko Narrog and Bernd Heine
2. Grammaticalization in Africa: Two contrasting hypotheses 16
Bernd Heine
3. Typological features of grammaticalization in Semitic 35
Mohssen Esseesy
4. Grammaticalization and inflectionalization in Iranian 57
Geoffrey Haig
5. Grammaticalization in the languages of Europe 79
Östen Dahl
6. Revisiting the anasynthetic spiral 97
Martin Haspelmath
7. Grammaticalization in the North Caucasian languages 116
Peter Arkadiev and Timur Maisak
8. Grammaticalization in Turkic 146
Lars Johanson and Éva Á. Csató
9. Grammaticalization in Japanese and Korean 166
Heiko Narrog, Seongha Rhee, and John Whitman
10. Grammaticalization processes in the languages of South Asia 189
Alexander R. Coupe
11. Grammaticalization in isolating languages and the notion of complexity 219
Umberto Ansaldo, Walter Bisang, and Pui Yiu Szeto
12. Typology and grammaticalization in the Papuan languages of Timor, Alor, and Pantar 235
Marian Klamer
13. Grammaticalization and typology in Australian Aboriginal languages 263
Ilana Mushin

digitalisiert durch:
IDS Basel Bern

14. Grammaticalization in Oceanic languages 282
Claire Moyse-Faurie

15. Shaping typology through grammaticalization: North America 309
Marianne Mithun

16. Areal diffusion and the limits of grammaticalization: An Amazonian perspective 337
Alexandra Y. Aikhenvald

17. Diachronic stories of body-part nouns in some language families of South America 350
Roberto Zariquiey

18. Addressing questions of grammaticalization in creoles: It's all about the methodology 372
Hiram L. Smith

19. Is grammaticalization in creoles different? 394
John H. McWhorter

References 409
Index of languages 461
Index of authors 464
Index of subjects 466