

Table of Contents

New Economic Partners – Dynamic Asian Economies and Central and Eastern European Countries : Main Issues and Summary of Discussions by André Barsony and John West . . . . .	7
DAE/CEEC Economic Integration: Recent Trends and Impediments
Introduction by John West . . . . .	21
Country Profiles
Hungary by Peter Balázs . . . . .	29
Korea by Jung-Chae Chung . . . . .	32
Poland by Janusz Maronowski . . . . .	35
Thailand by Penprapa Vongkovit . . . . .	39
Taiwan by Chen-Chung Deng . . . . .	42
Malaysia by Kim-Leng Yeah . . . . .	45
Hong Kong's Economic Relations with China by KY Tang . . . . .	49
Austria's Role as a Bridge Between Eastern and Western Europe by Eduard Hochreiter . . . . .	63
Finland's Changing Economic Relations with Russia and the Baltic States by Juhani Laurila . . . . .	73
Poland as an Economic Bridge Between the NIS and Western Europe by Anna Wziatek-Kubiak . . . . .	79
Structural Adjustment Policies in Korea's Development: A Critical Review and Possible Lessons for the CEECs by Kim Kihwan and Catherine Lee . . . . .	85
Guidance Policies for Small and Medium-sized Enterprises in the Asian NIEs by Phillipe Regnier . . . . .	107
Structural Adjustment in Thailand: Some Lessons of Experience by Wisarn Pupphavesa . . . . .	131

Financial Market Policies During Korea's Post-War Development . . . . . 139 by Yung Chul Park . . . . .

Financing Economic Transformation in Hungary . . . . . 151
by Balázs Botos . . . . .

The Role of Financial Liberalisation in Thailand's Economic Development . . . . . 155
by Pongpanu Svetarundra . . . . .