

Contents

Preface	vii
Introduction	ix
Acknowledgements	x
1 Introducing business organizations	1
2 Interdependence and specialization	31
3 The changing industrial structure	51
4 Introducing business and economic systems	67
5 Business organization in the private sector	86
6 Small business enterprise	134
7 Business organization in the public sector	154
8 The structure of organizations	172
9 Decision-makers and types of decision-making	189
10 Using statistical and quantitative techniques	231
11 The business in its environment	278
12 Understanding customer needs	309
13 Developing marketing strategies	342
14 Production	395
15 An introduction to the accounting process	435
16 Finance and decision-making	475
17 The management of costs	512
18 Recruitment and the role of personnel	543
19 The experience of working life	570
20 Trade unions	603
21 Communication	623
22 The influence of the economy on organizations	662
23 The consequences of business	696
24 Business studies in practice	733
Linking business studies: Notes for teachers	748
Index	751