

Contents

A. Introduction	1
B. The Problem of Transition	7
I. The Transition from Socialism in Central and Eastern Europe: Stylised Facts	8
II. The Transformation Crisis and Its Interpretation.....	14
III. Towards an Institutional Interpretation of the Transition Crisis in Eastern Europe	22
IV. Transformation without Crisis in China: A Puzzle	25
C. What Is the Soft Budget Constraint?	29
I. Definition and Assumptions	30
II. Soft Budget Constraints and Economic Reforms in Socialist Countries.....	33
1. Shortages and Price Liberalisation.....	33
2. Decentralisation and Efficiency	38
III. Budget Softness, Credibility, Inefficiency, and Rent Seeking: Conceptual Links	45
1. Inefficiency	46
2. Credibility	51
3. Rent Seeking	53
IV. The Impact of Budget Softness on Economic Reforms: Three Hypotheses	56
D. Soft Budget Constraints and the Fate of Economic Reforms in Developing Countries	57
I. Measuring the Soft Budget Constraint.....	57
1. Aspects of Loose Financial Discipline.....	58
2. Subsidies and Microeconomic Distortions.....	64
II. Constructing Indices of Budget Softness	67

III. Testing for the Impact of Soft Budget Constraints	72
1. Soft Budget Constraints and Inflation	72
2. Soft Budget Constraints, Growth, and Investment	76
IV. Soft Budget Constraints and the Sustainability of Reforms	78
1. Economic Reforms in Developing Countries: A Typology	79
2. Budget Softness and Reform Sustainability	82
E. Sustained Reforms, but Incomplete Adjustment: The Case of Poland	85
I. Initial Conditions and the Macroeconomic Impact of Reform	85
1. Initial Conditions	85
2. Macroeconomic Indicators	87
II. Pockets of Subsidisation, Institutional Reforms, and Enterprise Adjustment	89
1. Loose Financial Discipline	90
2. Institutional Reforms	95
3. Enterprise Adjustment	102
III. The Determinants of Recovery: A Sectoral Analysis	107
1. A Dual Pattern of Structural Adjustment	107
2. Measuring Performance: Total Factor Productivity Growth ...	108
3. The Determinants of Economic Performance: Competition, Ownership, and Structural Change	114
F. Decentralisation and Efficiency: Inconsistent Reforms and Enterprise Performance in China	119
I. Transformation without Crisis: The Role of Initial Conditions ...	120
1. Structural Differences	120
2. Macroeconomic Differences	125
3. Political Differences	128
II. Decentralisation and Budget Softness	129
1. Macroeconomic Indicators of Budget Softness	129
2. The Regional Impact of Decentralisation and the Persistence of Soft Budget Constraints	132

III. Hardening Budget Constraints through Enterprise Reforms	142
1. Enterprise Reforms and Performance: An Overview	142
2. The Sample: Ownership, Autonomy, and Location	146
3. Ownership, Autonomy, and Capital Allocation	153
4. Ownership, Autonomy, and Efficiency	160
5. Explaining the Decline in Profit Rates in Chinese Industry	174
G. Concluding Remarks	178
I. Summary	178
II. Policy Recommendations and Outlook	182
References	187
Index	211

List of Tables

Table 1 — Stylised Facts: Changes in Gross Domestic Output, Industrial Production, Investment for Selected Countries, 1990–1995	9
Table 2 — Stylised Facts: Fiscal Balance, Broad Money, Consumer Prices for Selected Countries, 1990–1995	11
Table 3 — Stylised Facts: Employment, Real Product Wages, Unemployment for Selected Countries, 1990–1995	13
Table 4 — Capital Utilisation and the Contribution of Changes in Capital Services to Industrial Output Decline in 1990, 21 Sectors of Polish Industry	19
Table 5 — Price Liberalisation in China 1978–1992: Proportion of Output at Fixed, Guided and Market Prices	27
Table 6 — Bureaucratic Tenacity in Hungary, 1970–1981	41
Table 7 — Transition Probabilities between Various Financial States Due to Fiscal Redistribution for Hungarian Firms in 1982	41
Table 8 — Budgetary Revenues of Central and Local Governments in China, 1981–1990	42
Table 9 — Ratio of Input to Output Inventories, Selected Countries and Periods	62
Table 10 — Indicators of Budget Softness: Definitions	67
Table 11 — Inflation, Growth, Investment, and the Soft Budget Constraint Indicators, 1978–1988	69
Table 12 — Tests for Serial Correlation, Analysis of Variance	70
Table 13 — Factor Matrix and Factor Score Coefficients for Seven Budget Softness Indicators	71
Table 14 — Tests for Serial Correlation, Structural Breaks, and Analysis of Variance: Inflation, Growth, and Investment Equations	74
Table 15 — Inflation, Macroeconomic Policy, and Soft Budget Constraints, 1978–1988	75
Table 16 — Growth, Investment, and Soft Budget Constraints, 1978–1988	77
Table 17 — A Typology of Economic Reforms in Developing Countries: Initial Conditions, Reform Intensity, and Sustainability	57

Table 18 — Reform Sustainability, Country Subgroups and Factor Scores before, during, and after Economic Reforms.....	83
Table 19 — Share of Private Sector in Employment and Sold Production in Poland, 1989–1993	86
Table 20 — Soft Budget Constraint Indicators for Poland, 1989–1994	87
Table 21 — Enterprise Tax Liabilities to the Central Government Budget as a Share of Total Enterprise Liabilities and of Budget Revenues, 1991–1994.....	92
Table 22 — Determinants of Bank Loan Allocation for 75 Polish SOEs, 1989–1992	94
Table 23 — Correlation Coefficients of Net Indebtedness and Financial Performance Indicators in 21 Sectors of Polish Industry, 1992–1994	95
Table 24 — The Outcome of Poland's Enterprise and Bank Restructuring Programme	98
Table 25 — Progress in Polish Privatisation, 1991–1995.....	101
Table 26 — Overemployment and Its Causes by Ownership for 200 Polish Enterprises, 1993.....	103
Table 27 — Main Characteristics of the Groups of Successful (Group A) and Less Successful (Group B) Adjusters in Polish Industry, 1989–1993	107
Table 28 — The Share of Labour in Value Added for 21 Sectors of Polish Industry, 1991–1993	112
Table 29 — Average Rate of Output Growth and Total Factor Productivity Growth for 21 Sectors of Polish Industry, 1991–1993	113
Table 30 — The Determinants of Total Factor Productivity Growth: Regression Results for 21 Sectors of Polish Industry, 1991–1993	117
Table 31 — Economic Structure in China, 1952–1993	121
Table 32 — Ownership Structure of Chinese Industry, Output (current prices) and Employment, 1978–1993	122
Table 33 — Industrial Structure by Firm Size and Ownership	123
Table 34 — Structural Characteristics and Industrial Output Growth by Geographical Location (29 Chinese provinces)	124
Table 35 — Import Penetration and Direct Foreign Investment by Province, 1978, 1985, 1989	127

Table 36 — Macroeconomic Indicators of Budget Softness for China, 1980–1993	130
Table 37 — The Financing of Fixed Asset Investment of State-Owned Enterprises, 1985–1991	133
Table 38 — Differences between Revenues and Expenditures of Chinese Provinces as a Share of Total Revenues, 1978–1991.....	134
Table 39 — Growth of Industrial Production, Capital Productivity, and Profit Rate in Selected Provinces, 1985–1993.....	135
Table 40 — Autonomy and Investment in Infrastructure in Selected Provinces, 1993.....	136
Table 41 — Monetary and Velocity Developments and Selected Interest Rates, 1984–1994	139
Table 42 — Distribution of SOE Losses and Contribution of SOE Output to Total State Sector Output in Industry for Selected Provinces, 1993.....	140
Table 43 — Ratio of Actual to Planned Monetary Aggregates, 1983–1992	141
Table 44 — Selected Performance Indicators for SOEs, COEs, and TVEs, 1983–1993.....	144
Table 45 — Summary Statistics for the Enterprise Survey in 1992 by Ownership Categories	147
Table 46 — Enterprise Autonomy by Ownership	148
Table 47 — Causes Given by Enterprise Managers for a Decline in Profitability by Ownership.....	149
Table 48 — Enterprise Autonomy by Location	150
Table 49 — Causes Given by Enterprise Managers for a Decline in Profitability by Location	152
Table 50 — Allocation of Financial Funds by Ownership in the Chinese Enterprise Sample, 1985–1992	154
Table 51 — Allocation of Financial Funds by Investment Autonomy, Chinese Enterprise Sample, 1985–1992	155
Table 52 — Neo-Classical Investment Demand by Ownership and Autonomy.....	159
Table 53 — Test Statistics for Estimations of Two-Factor Production Functions.....	162
Table 54 — Total Factor Productivity Indices by Ownership, 1980–1992	163

Table 55 — Ownership and Industrial Structure in Four Coastal Cities	164
Table 56 — Total Factor Productivity Indices by Location, 1980–1992....	164
Table 57 — Enterprise Autonomy by Management Form, 1992	167
Table 58 — The Impact of Management Forms and Incentives on Labour Productivity, 1985–1992.....	168
Table 59 — Production Function Estimates for All Firms and 4 Sectors, 1980–1992	171
Table 60 — Labour Shares by Ownership and Sector, 1980–1992	171
Table 61 — Labour Shares by Autonomy in Labour Markets, 1980–1992	173
Table 62 — Relative Price Developments and Changes in Industrial Profit Rates for 13 Sectors, 1980–1992	175
Table 63 — Determinants of Profits Rates in Sampled Enterprises, Pooled Regressions, 1980–1992 and 1990–1992	177

List of Figures

Figure 1 —	The Supply-Side Hypothesis and the Transitional Output Decline.....	16
Figure 2 —	Relative Price Shifts, Fixed Capital and the Transitional Output Decline.....	17
Figure 3 —	Market Equilibrium with Flexible Prices and Producers with Soft Budget Constraints	36
Figure 4 —	Farrell's Input-Based Measures of Allocative, Technical, and Overall Inefficiency	47
Figure 5 —	Measures of Budget Softness Using Equivalent and Compensating Variation	49
Figure 6 —	Farrell's Output-Based Measures of Inefficiency	50
Figure 7 —	Soft Budget Constraints, Rent Seeking, and Social Waste ...	54
Figure 8 —	Receivables in the Polish Enterprise Sector as a Share of Bank Credit to Enterprises, 1990–1994.....	91
Figure 9 —	Net Capital Stock (NK) and Electricity Consumption (EL) in Polish Industry, 1989–1993.....	111
Figure 10 —	Share of Private Sector, Import Penetration Ratio, Concentration, 1991–1993 Average for 21 Subsectors of Polish Industry.....	116