

Contents

Acknowledgments	xiii
Abbreviations and Acronyms	xv
Introduction Otmar Höll	1
Opening Remarks Franz Vranitzky	7
PART ONE
The Globalization of Environmental Problems
1 Europe and the Atlantic Community in the Context of an Ecological World Order Peter Cornelius Mayer-Tasch	13
1. Introduction, 13
2. The Lost Battle: Is There a Future? 14
3. The Orderly Retreat: What Is Necessary? 22
4. Marignano Utopos: What Are Our Chances? 27
5. Epilogue, 31
2 The State of the Global Environment: Is There a Need for an “Orderly Retreat”?	33
Bo R. Döös
1. Introduction, 33
2. Major Stresses on the Global Ecological System, 33
3. Is There a Need for “An Orderly Retreat”? 39
4. What Can Be Done? 46
References, 50

- 3 Global Cooperation for Sustainable Development:
Challenges to the North on the Road from Rio 53
- Irene Freudenschuss*
1. Introduction, 53
 2. From "The Rio Spirit" to a New
North-South Relationship, 54
 3. Integration of Environment and Development, 60
 4. Challenges to the Political Reality in the North, 64
 5. Conclusions, 68

PART TWO

Economic and Institutional Capacities for International Environmental Cooperation

- 4 Affluence and Scarceness: The Effect of Economic and Sociocultural Capacities on Environmental Cooperation 71
- Volker von Prittwitz*
1. Disaster Paradox and Capacity for Action, 71
 2. Ecology of Affluence – Ecology of Scarceness, 74
 3. Conclusions, 80
- Further Literature, 81
- 5 Economic and Institutional Capacities
for Environmental Cooperation
(Some Remarks on Volker von Prittwitz) 85
- Peter H. Sand*

PART THREE

International Negotiating Processes in the Environmental Field and Their Results

- 6 Specific Characteristics of Environmental Diplomacy 91
- Winfried Lang*
- 7 Critical Attributes of International
Environmental Negotiations 103
- Gunnar Sjöstedt*
1. Introduction, 103
 2. The Anatomy of Negotiation, 104

3.	Characteristics of International Environmental Negotiations, 107
4.	Attributes of Environmental Negotiations: Critical Developments, 117
5.	Concluding Remarks, 121
8	The Role of International Environmental Law	123
	Michael Bothe
1.	The Role of Law in Environmental Protection, 123
2.	Political Forces Determining Environmental Negotiations, 124
3.	The Legal Instruments of a Stepwise Approach, 126
4.	Hard Law and Soft Law in International Environmental Regulation, 127
5.	General Versus Specific, Vague Versus Precise Obligations, 128
6.	The Global Goal Approach, 130
7.	Procedural Versus Substantive Obligations, 131
8.	Uncontrolled Versus Controlled Obligations, 132
9.	Institutions, 134
10.	Conclusions, 135
9	Comments on the Objective of Regional International Environmental Law	137
	Gerhard Hafner
1.	Introduction, 137
2.	Objectives, 138
3.	Impediments to Such Legal Solutions, 139
4.	Means and Tools to Overcome These Impediments, 140
5.	Conclusion, 142
 PART FOUR
Regional Environmental Policies in Europe
10	The Environmental Policy of the European Community	145
	Robert Hull

-
- 11 Harmonization of the EC Environmental Policy
After Maastricht 159
Jan C. Bongaerts
1. The Single European Act, 160
 2. Changes After the Maastricht Conference, 160
 3. New Policy Instruments, 165
 4. Conclusions, 174
- References, 175
- 12 East Central European Policy Making:
The Case of the Environment 177
Peter Hardi
1. Introduction, 177
 2. Economic Impediments, 180
 3. Political Impediments, 189
 4. Policy Impediments, 197
 5. Conclusion, 201
- 13 The Central European Initiative 203
Georg Potyka
1. Introduction, 203
 2. The Activity Profile of the CEI, 204
 3. The Working Group on the Environment, 205
 4. Summary, 208
- 14 Regional Environmental Policies in Europe:
Baltic/Nordic Cooperation 209
Tapani Kohonen
1. Basic Character of the Baltic Sea, 209
 2. Present International Cooperation, 210
 3. Activities Within the Helsinki Commission, 212
 4. The Future Outlook, 219
- References, 221

-
- 15 Comments on the Baltic/Nordic Cooperation 223
Markus Amann
1. The Nordic Council, 223
 2. The Critical-Loads Approach, 224
 3. Equity in International Agreements in Nordic Countries, 225

PART FIVE

Domestic Environmental Politics in a Comparative Perspective

- 16 Domestic Environmental Politics in a Comparative Perspective: The Nordic Countries 231
Christer Ågren
1. Nordic Cooperation, 231
 2. Environmental Problems, 232
 3. Environmental Protection in Sweden, 233
 4. Public Concern and Priorities, 235
 5. Environmental Organizations, 236
 6. Political Parties, 236
 7. Decision Making and the Influence of Environmental Organizations, 237
- References, 238
- 17 Drifting Countries: Politics and Environment in East Central Europe 239
János Vargha
1. Technology, Politics, and Environment, 239
 2. The Environmental Movements and Political Changes, 240
 3. New Political Concepts for Environmental Protection, 240
 4. Programs and Realities, 243
 5. Drifting Countries, 245
- Selected References, 246

18	The Political Infrastructure of Environmental Politics in Western and Eastern Europe	247
	Volkmar Lauber
1.	Sustainable Development, Society, and Politics, 247
2.	Failure to Develop a Response to Environmental Deterioration, 249
3.	The Environmental Movement in Western Europe, 251
4.	Environmental Politics in Eastern Europe, 258
5.	Comparisons and Conclusion, 269
19	Domestic Environmental Politics in a Comparative Perspective: The Italian Case	271
	Maria Berrini
1.	The Context, 271
2.	Environmental Policy, 277
3.	Perspectives, 280
20	Environmental Policy: The Case of Austria	281
	Otmar Höll
1.	Introduction, 281
2.	Historical Development of Environmental Concern, 283
3.	Assessment of Results, 288
4.	Main Characteristics of Austrian Environmental Policy, 293
5.	Conclusions, 294
	About the Contributors	297