SUMMARY	1
1 INTRODUCTION	38
The Importance of Child Maltreatment Research, 39
Research on Child Maltreatment is Currently Undervalued and Undeveloped, 40
Dimensions of Child Abuse and Neglect, 42
The Complexity of Child Maltreatment, 43
Charge to the Panel, 47
The Importance of a Child-Oriented Framework, 49
An Ecological Developmental Perspective, 50
Previous Reports, 52
Report Overview, 53
2 IDENTIFICATION AND DEFINITIONS	57
Review of Definitions, 59
Principles Underlying Research Definitions, 62
Specific Definitional Issues, 63
Identification of Child Maltreatment, 67
Research Recommendations, 70
3 SCOPE OF THE PROBLEM	78
Current Estimates, 79

	Methodological Issues, 85
	Conclusions, 93
	Research Recommendations, 95
4	ETIOLOGY OF CHILD MALTREATMENT	106
	Overview of Etiological Models, 107
	Individual Ontogenic Factors, 111
	Family Microsystem, 126
	The Exosystem, 132
	The Macrosystem, 136
	Summary of Etiological Factors, 139
	Research Recommendations, 140
5	PREVENTION	161
	Overview, 161
	The Family Microsystem, 167
	The Exosystem, 178
	The Macrosystem, 188
	Conclusions, 190
	Research Recommendations, 191
6	CONSEQUENCES OF CHILD ABUSE AND NEGLECT	208
	Childhood, 210
	Adolescence, 217
	Adulthood, 223
	Issues of Stigma, Bias, and Discrimination, 226
	Interaction of Risk and Protective Factors, 226
	Research Recommendations, 232
7	INTERVENTIONS AND TREATMENT	253
	Treatment Efforts at the Individual Level, 256
	Microsystem Approaches: Family-Oriented Interventions, 261
	Community Exosystem Interventions, 266
	Social/Macrosystem Interventions, 274
	Conclusions, 274
	Research Recommendations, 275
8	HUMAN RESOURCES, INSTRUMENTATION, AND RESEARCH INFRASTRUCTURE	292
	The Research Community, 293
	Training Issues, 294
	Instrumentation Issues, 297
