

Contents

Preface	vii
Contributors	ix
1 Introduction: The Politics of Multiculturalism in the New Europe	I
Tariq Modood
PART ONE Inclusion and Exclusion in the Making of the New Europe	27
2 Globalisation and the Discourse of Otherness in the 'New' Eastern and Central Europe	29
László Kürti
3 'The Invaders', 'the Traitors' and 'the Resistance Movement': The Extreme Right's Conceptualisation of Opponents and Self in Scandinavia	54
Tore Bjørge
4 International Migration in Europe: Social Projects and Political Cultures	73
Umberto Melotti
PART TWO From Immigrants to Citizens: The Politics of Inclusion	93
5 The Perils of Ethnic Associational Life in Europe: Turkish Migrants in Germany and France	95
Lale Yalçın-Heckmann
6 Negotiating Religious Difference: The Opinions and Attitudes of Islamic Associations in France	111
A. Moustapha Diop

7	Arenas of Ethnic Negotiation: Cooperation and Conflict in Bradford	126
	Philip Lewis
8	Islam as a Civil Religion: Political Culture and the Organisation of Diversity in Germany	147
	Werner Schiffauer
PART THREE Situating Plural Identities		167
9	Hyphenated Identities and the Limits of 'Culture'	169
	Ayşe S. Çağlar
10	Defining Ethnicity: Another Way of Being British	186
	Wenonah Lyon
PART FOUR Plural Polities: Instituting Multiculturalism		207
11	Why 'Positive Action' is 'Politically Correct'	209
	Gideon Ben-Tovim
12	Society as a Kind of Community: Communitarian Voting with Equal Rights for Individuals in the European Union	223
	Christopher Brewin
13	The Plural Guises of Multiculturalism: Conceptualising a Fragmented Paradigm	240
	Yunas Samad
14	Afterword: Writing Multiculturalism and Politics in the New Europe	261
	Pnina Werbner
	Index	268