Contents

Contributors vii

Chapter 1 Ausländer in the Heimat: Ethnocentrism in Contemporary Germany
Richard Alba, Peter Schmidt, and Martina Wasmer 1

Chapter 2 The Ethnic and Demographic Structure of Foreigners and Immigrants in Germany
Rainer Münz and Ralf Ulrich 19

Chapter 3 On the Economic and Social Situations of Immigrant Groups in Germany
Stefan Bender and Wolfgang Seifert 45

Chapter 4 Ethnocentrism in Germany: Worldview Connections and Social Contexts
Michael Terwey 69

Chapter 5 Foreigners as Second-Class Citizens? Attitudes Toward Equal Civil Rights for Non-Germans
Martina Wasmer and Achim Koch 95

Chapter 6 Measuring Contemporary Prejudice Toward Immigrants in Germany
Richard Alba and Michelle Johnson 119

Chapter 7 The Others and We: Relationships Between Germans and Non-Germans from the Point of View of Foreigners Living in Germany
Steffen Kühnel and Jürgen Leibold 143

Chapter 8 Anti-Semitism in the Late 1990s
Werner Bergmann and Rainer Erb 163

Chapter 9 Authoritarianism and Ethnocentrism in East and West Germany: Does the System Matter?
Aribert Heyder and Peter Schmidt 187
Chapter 10 Ethnocentrism and Support for Extreme-Right Parties
Ulrich Rosar

Chapter 11 Social Distance and Physical Proximity: Day-to-Day Attitudes and Experiences of Foreigners and Germans Living in the Same Residential Areas
Ferdinand Bölken

Chapter 12 Regional Influences on Attitudes Toward Foreigners
Jürgen H.P. Hoffmeyer-Zlotnik

Appendix: Questions about Ethnic Minorities in ALLBUS 1996

References

Index