

CONTENTS

Preface	xiii
1 The Social Movement as a Unique Collective Phenomenon		1
An Organized Collectivity	2
Degrees of Organization	3
Social Movement Campaigns	4
Social Movement Organizations	5
An Uninstitutionalized Collectivity	5
Social Movements as Out-Groups	6
Institutions as In-Groups	7
A Large Collectivity	8
Size	9
Time	10
Events	11
Promotes or Opposes Change in Societal Norms and Values	12
Basic Types of Social Movements	12
Reform and Revolutionary Movements	13
Moderate and Radical Movements	13
Ideologies and Belief-Systems	14
Encounters Opposition in a Moral Struggle	15
Claim to Legitimacy	15
Disaffection and Confrontation	16
Persuasion Is Pervasive	18
Coercion and Bargaining	18
Persuasion	20
Conclusions	22
Endnotes	23

2	Social Movements as Interpretive Systems	27
	Systems Theory and Communication	28
	Characteristic 1: Nonsummativity	28
	Characteristic 2: Function-Structure-Evolution	29
	Characteristic 3: Hierarchical Organization	30
	Characteristic 4: The Degree of Openness	31
	Mechanical vs. Social Systems	32
	Conceptions of Human Influence	34
	Conception of Human Conflict	35
	Conception of Human Relationships	37
	The Interpretive Systems Approach to Political Communication	38
	Studying Social Movements as
	Interpretive Systems: "The Question"	41
	Which Individuals?	41
	Conceiving Themselves to Be What "People?"	42
	In What Environment?	43
	Use What Relational Patterns?	44
	And What Adaptive Strategies?	46
	With What Evolutionary Results?	47
	Conclusions	48
	Endnotes	49
3	The Persuasive Functions of Social Movements	51
	Transforming Perceptions of Reality	52
	The Past	52
	The Present	54
	The Future	56
	Altering Self-Perceptions of Protestors	59
	The Ego Function in Self-Directed Social Movements	59
	The Ego Function in Other-Directed Social Movements	60
	Legitimizing the Social Movement	62
	Conferring and Maintaining Legitimacy	62
	Legitimacy through Coactive Strategies	64
	Legitimacy through Confrontational Strategies	66
	Prescribing Courses of Action	68
	The What	68
	The Who	70
	The How	71
	Mobilizing for Action	73
	Organizing and Uniting the Discontented	73
	Pressuring the Opposition	74
	Gaining Sympathy and Support of Legitimizers	75
	Sustaining the Social Movement	76
	Justifying Setbacks and Delays	76
	Maintaining Viability of the Movement	77
	Maintaining Visibility of the Movement	77
	Conclusions	78
	Endnotes	79

4	Personal Needs and Social Movements: John Birchers and Gray Panthers	83
	Authoritarian and Democratic Personalities	83
	Maslow's Authoritarian Character Structure	84
	Maslow's Democratic Character Structure	86
	Two Social Movement Organizations	87
	The John Birch Society	87
	The Gray Panthers	88
	The Authoritarian Character of John Birch Society Persuasion	89
	The Birch World as Jungle	89
	The Birch Tendency toward Autocracy	90
	Birchist Sadomasochism	92
	The Democratic Character of Gray Panther Persuasion	95
	The Gray Panthers' World as Rational but Misguided	95
	The Gray Panthers' Tendency toward Egalitarianism	96
	The Gray Panthers' Desire to Empower	97
	Conclusions	98
	Endnotes	100
5	Leadership in Social Movements	103
	Public Perceptions of Social Movement Leaders	104
	The Nature of Leadership in Social Movements	107
	Leaders as Organizers	107
	Leaders as Decision Makers	109
	Leaders as Symbols	111
	How Leadership Is Attained in Social Movements	112
	Charisma	112
	Prophecy	114
	Pragmatism	115
	How Leadership Is Maintained in Social Movements	117
	A Mix of Leadership Attributes	117
	Handling Diverse, Conflicting Roles	119
	Changing as the Movement Changes	120
	Adapting to Events	121
	Leading by Not Getting Too Far Ahead or Behind	122
	Conclusions	124
	Endnotes	125
6	The Life Cycle of Social Movements	129
	Stage 1: Genesis	130
	Stage 2: Social Unrest	134
	Stage 3: Enthusiastic Mobilization	138
	Stage 4: Maintenance	142
	Stage 5: Termination	145
	Conclusions	147
	Endnotes	148

7 Identification and Polarization in Social Movements 151

- Symbolic Interaction 151
- A Rhetoric of Identification 152
  - Common Ground 153
  - The Implied "We" 154
  - Groups and Group Actions 155
  - Appearance 156
  - Language 156
  - Content Adaptation 157
  - Values, Beliefs, and Attitudes 158
  - Visual Symbols 159
  - Naming Names 159
- A Rhetoric of Polarization 161
  - Identifying Devils 162
  - Identifying Conspiracies 163
  - Obscenity 164
  - Ridicule 165
  - Vilification 166
- Conclusions 167
- Endnotes 168

8 Slogans, Obscenity, and Ridicule in Social Movements

171

- Social Symbols 171
- Slogans 174
  - Characteristics and Types 175
  - Transforming Perceptions of Reality 176
  - Altering Self-Perceptions of Protestors 177
  - Legitimizing the Social Movement 178
  - Prescribing Courses of Action 179
  - Mobilizing for Action 180
- Obscenity 182
  - Rhetorical Characteristics of Obscenity 182
  - Transforming Perceptions of Reality 184
  - Altering Self-Perceptions of Protestors 184
  - Legitimizing the Social Movement 185
  - Expressing Contempt 186
  - Resorting to Diatribe 187
  - Adverse Effects of Obscenity on Social Protest 188
- Ridicule 190
  - Levels of Ridicule 190
  - The Functions of Ridicule 194
- Conclusions 195
- Endnotes 196

9 Music in Social Movements	199
Presenting Past, Present, and Future in Song	201
Song and Self-Image	204
Achieving Legitimacy through Song	207
What, Who, and How in Song	212
Requesting Action through Song	215
Appeals beyond the Movement	217
Victory Is Near	218
Commitment to the Movement	219
Ultimate Victory	219
The Movement's Heritage	220
Conclusions	221
Endnotes	222
10 Political Argument in Social Movements	225
The Nature of Argument	225
Rossiter's Political Spectrum	227
The Types of Political Argument	228
Insurgent Argument	230
Innovative Argument	233
Progressive Argument	235
Retentive Argument	237
Reversive Argument	239
Restorative Argument	241
Revolutionary Argument	242
Conclusions	245
Endnotes	245
11 Argument from Narrative Vision in Social Movements	249
Narrative and Rhetorical Vision	249
Patriot Movement or Domestic Terrorism?	252
The Militia Movement as Historically Legitimate	252
The Inalienable Right to Bear Arms	254
Militia Accounts of Violence: The Oklahoma City Bombing	257
Weaving the Story	259
The Panama Canal Controversy	261
The Past: America's Claim to the Canal	264
The Present: The Western Hemisphere Today	266
The Future: The Kind of Power We Wish to Be	266
Outgrowth of the Narrative	267
Conclusions	269
Endnotes	270

12	Argument from Transcendence in Social Movements	273
	Argument from Transcendence	274
	Argument from Quantity	274
	Argument from Quality	275
	Argument from Value	275
	Argument from Hierarchy	276
	The Abortion Conflict as a Case Study	277
	The Clash over Personhood	279
	Pro-Choice	279
	Pro-Life	280
	The Clash over Rights	281
	Pro-Choice	281
	Pro-Life	281
	The Clash over Realities	282
	Pro-Choice	283
	Pro-Life	284
	The Clash over Competing Social Movements	286
	Pro-Choice	286
	Pro-Life	288
	Conclusions	292
	Endnotes	294
13	Argument from Conspiracy in Social Movements	299
	Sowing Distrust	301
	Capitalizing on Distrust	301
	Creating Distrust	303
	The Principle of Reversal	305
	Challenging Plausibility	306
	Implausible Labels	306
	Failure to Consider Alternative Explanations and Evidence	307
	Simplicity of Explanations	307
	Selling the Conspiracy	308
	A Coherent Pattern	308
	Overwhelming Proof	309
	Motivation	310
	Evilness	311
	Conclusions	313
	Endnotes	315

14 Resisting Social Movements	319
Institutions and Social Order	319
Democracy and Resistance to Social Movements	321
The Strategy of Evasion	325
The Strategy of Counterpersuasion	326
The Strategy of Coercive Persuasion	329
The Strategy of Coercion	332
The Strategy of Adjustment	334
The Strategy of Capitulation	336
Conclusions	337
Endnotes	338
Selected Bibliography	341
Articles	341
Book Chapters	360
Books	360
Index	369