

Contents

Introduction	ix
1. The Rise of Industrial Labor	1
The Emergence of Industrial Labor	1
Working Conditions	4
Clerical Workers	8
2. Early Forms of Workers' Action	11
Early Workers' Organizations in Great Britain and France	11
Early Industrial Action and Protest	14
Political Action	17
New Model Unionism and Its Influence on the Continent	20
The First High Tide of Unionism	22
3. The Era of Organization	27
The Rise of Marxist Organizations	27
Marxist Versus Anarchist Socialism	30
Three Models of Union Development	33
Minor Trends	38
The Rise of Employers' Associations	40
4. The Impact of the Organizations	45
The Eight Hour Day and the Trend Toward Collective Contracts	45
Political Action	51
Labor Legislation	54
The Upsurge of Syndicalism	59

5. The First World War and Its Aftermath	63
The First World War	63
1917	66
The Aftermath	68
The Outcome	72
6. The 1920s	79
The Employers' Counteroffensive and the Rise of Scientific Management	79
The Split Between Socialists and Communists	83
The Spread of Collective Bargaining	85
From Bargaining to Corporatism	89
7. Europe in Crisis	93
The Russian Industrialization Drive	93
Crisis	95
In Search of New Politics and a New Order	99
Labor Relations Under Fascism	100
The Popular Front	103
Truce in the Smaller Countries	105
8. The Second World War and the Period of Recovery	109
The Second World War	109
The Participants in Postwar Labor Relations	113
The Issues	118
The Beginning of the Cold War	124
Division and Stabilization	127
9. Bargaining in the 1950s and 1960s	131
The Structure of Bargaining in the 1950s	131
The Issues of the 1950s	134
Productivity as a Common Priority	138
Reducing Inequality	143
10. Revolt and Recession	147
Crisis of Authority	147
Worker Participation and Miscellaneous Issues	150
The Oil Crisis and State Intervention	156
Participation as a Double-Edged Weapon	160
11. Labor Relations in Eastern Europe Since 1948	165
The Industrialization Drive	165
New Course and De-Stalinization	167
The Yugoslav Self-Management	171
The Reforms of the 1960s	174
Labor Revolt in the 1970s	177
12. Eastern and Western Europe in the 1980s	181
Solidarność	181

State Deficits and Unemployment in Western Europe	183
Work Time and Flexibility	188
Labor Relations and the Rise of Clerical Workers	189
Women Workers: From Protection to Positive Action	194
1992—The Western European Catchword in the Early 1990s	196
Perestroika —The Eastern European Catchword in the Early 1990s	197
Bibliography	201
Index	215