

Table of Contents

Page

---

THE SINGLE EUROPEAN MARKET: 1992 AND BEYOND	1
- Fragile vision or realistic goal? -
1 The 1992 program: A mid-term assessment	3
2 Global economic impact: liberalization and growth	8
3 Catalyst function of the internal market initiative: strengthening monetary integration	11
4 Conditions for the full realization of the EC-92 plan	15
5 Preliminary conclusions: a large-scale and ambitious experiment	18
EXTERNAL RELATIONS OF THE EC -	21
Trends and Options
1 The single market's impact on third countries	23
2 Existing EC trade restrictions	25
3 Greater EC protection after 1992?	27
4 Reduced EC protection after 1992?	32
5 EC world trade relations	34
6 Conclusion	37
THE SOCIAL IMPACT OF THE SINGLE EUROPEAN MARKET	43
1 A new debate	45
2 Employment in Europe	47
3 Substantial national differences in social policies	51

Table of Contents	Page
4 Harmonization of social standards at a minimum level	54
5 "Social dumping" as a new competitive edge?	56
6 The regional mobility of labor and capital	63
7 Labor market regulation and co-determination	67
8 Labor market policies and competitiveness: the West German case	73
9 Summary	77
EC INTEGRATION AND STRATEGIC LOCATION OF MANUFACTURING	81
- A sectoral outlook
1 Industries affected by EC-92	83
2 Competitive position of European suppliers	90
3 Specialization patterns within Europe	92
4 Germany as location for manufacturing - the company view	94
5 Future trends	98
COMPANY STRATEGIES FOR EC 1992	105
- Reactions by sectors and company size -
1 Company strategies and the impact of 1992	107
2 Internal strategies for the single market	111
3 External restructuring	118
4 General impact of 1992 on companies	125

Table of Contents	Page
<hr/>
IMPACT OF TRANSPORTATION DEREGULATION IN THE EC-92	131
1 Road Haulage	133
2 Commercial Aviation	141
3 Summary	148
 THE REMOVAL OF PHYSICAL AND TECHNICAL BARRIERS	 151
- The environmental impact -
1 Introduction	153
2 The removal of physical barriers	153
3 The removal of technical barriers	159
 THE COMPETITIVENESS OF EC REGIONS IN THE NINETIES	 167
- An evaluation of established and up-and-coming EC regions -	