

Contents

List of figures and tables	vii
Series editor's foreword	viii
Acknowledgements	x
Introduction	1
1 Beasts and brutes: popular blood sports c. 1780-1860 Douglas A. Reid	12
2 'Potshare bowling' in the mining communities of east Northumberland, 1800-1914 Alan Metcalfe	29
3 Organised sport and the working classes of central Scotland, 1820-1900: the neglected sport of quoiting N. L. Tranter	45
4 Working-class sport in Manchester between the wars Stephen G. Jones	67
5 Parks and baths: sport, recreation and municipal government in Ashton-under-Lyne between the wars David Bowker	84
6 Recreational cricket in the Bolton area between the wars Jack Williams	101
7 League cricket in the North and Midlands, 1900-1940 Jeffrey Hill	121
8 A different kind of success: West Ham United and the creation of tradition and community Charles P. Korr	142

Contents

9 Stanley Matthews	Tony Mason	159
10 Shooting stars: footballers and working-class culture in twentieth-century Scotland	H. F. Moorhouse	179
11 Focal heroes: a Welsh fighting class	Dai Smith	198
Index		218

Figures and tables

Tables

3.1	Number of quoits clubs and average number of inhabitants and males aged 15-44 per club, 1830-1900	47
3.2	Descriptions of attendance at matches between individual quoiters, central Scotland, 1859-1900	51
3.3	Total stake money involved in matches between individual quoiters, central Scotland, 1845-1900	52
3.4	The age composition of quoits players, 1880-83	55
3.5	The occupations of quoits players, 1820-1900	59
3.6	The occupations of quoits players, 1880-83	59
3.7	The social compositions of quoits players, 1880-83	60
5.1	Number of users of Ashton-under-Lyne Corporation Baths, 1920-39	88
7.1	Nelson CC: occupations of committee members, 1920s and 1930s	125
7.2	Nelson CC: membership subscriptions and gate receipts, 1896, 1908, 1924 and 1926	131-2

Figures

2.1	Bowling matches in east Northumberland, 1860-1913	38
2.2	Bowling handicaps in east Northumberland, 1860-1913	39