

Contents

	Preface	vi
	Acknowledgements	vii
	The discipline of sociology
CHAPTER 1	Doing sociology	1
	What is sociology and social science?	1
	Doing sociological research	1
	Sociological methods	2
	Observation and participant observation	3
	Social surveys — interviews and questionnaires	4
CHAPTER 2	What is society?	9
	What is society? What is sociology?	9
	What all societies have in common	10
	Sociology and the other social sciences	12
	Definitions of the social sciences	13
	The individual and social group
CHAPTER 3	The family	14
	Family and marriage: types and patterns	14
	Family structure and roles	20
	Alternatives to the family	27
CHAPTER 4	Education	30
	Your school as an organisation	30
	What are the purposes of education? (Why go to school?)	32
	The changing face of education: past and present	36
	The classroom, the school and society	41
	The educational issues of the 1980s and 1990s	44
CHAPTER 5	Media and communications	52
	Introduction: the media and a media culture	52
	The media: control and freedom	54
	Why people watch, listen and read — the effects the media have	60
CHAPTER 6	Religion, beliefs and values	72
	Definition of terms	72
	Religion and society	73
	Science, secularisation and the decline of organised religion	75

	The continued importance of religion	77
	Non-religious beliefs and ideologies	82
	Belief, socialisation and culture: conclusion	85
	The economy and community
CHAPTER 7	The economy and work	87
	The economy and work	87
	Work, prosperity and poverty	93
	The experience of work	100
	Industrial relations	103
CHAPTER 8	The economy, urbanisation and community	109
	Changing British society	109
	What is a city? Urban characteristics	110
	Power and people in the city and countryside	120
	Prosperity and problems in the city and countryside	124
CHAPTER 9	Wealth and leisure	130
	Introduction: definitions	130
	An age of leisure	131
	Variety and differences in leisure and life-styles	136
	Publicly and privately funded leisure facilities	139
	Two theories of leisure	140
	Conclusion: is more leisure a good thing?	140
	Differentiation and inequality
CHAPTER 10	Class	142
	Class differentiation and stratification	142
	Defining class	143
	Social mobility and life chances	145
	Income and wealth	147
	Class culture	151
CHAPTER 11	Gender	158
	Gender socialisation and roles	158
	Women and work	165
	The women's movement and patriarchy	167
	Sex discrimination	168
CHAPTER 12	Race and ethnicity	172
	Introduction: definition of terms	172
	Why black people came to Britain	174
	Racism and racial disadvantage	176
	Racial conflict, control and tolerance	183

CHAPTER 13	Age and generation	188
	Introduction: the social construction of age	188
	Childhood	190
	Youth	194
	Adulthood	203
	Old age	203
	Power, social order and freedom
CHAPTER 14	Social control and deviance	207
	Rules, norms and social order	207
	Deviance	208
	The problem of measuring crime	218
CHAPTER 15	Politics and government	224
	Politics, power and decision making	224
	Types of government: democratic and non-democratic	225
	Parties, pressure groups and public opinion in a democracy	226
	Local government	231
	Voting behaviour	232
	The health and welfare of the population
CHAPTER 16	Population	241
	Definition of terms	241
	Population and society	250
	Migration	254
	The global picture	259
CHAPTER 17	The welfare state and poverty	262
	Description and development of the welfare state	262
	Poverty	270
	Health, poverty and class	282
CHAPTER 18	Course work: problems and assessment	285
	Aim/hypothesis	285
	Methodology	286
	Sources	286
	Content	286
	Presentation	287
	Evaluation	287
	Individual initiative	288
	Glossary	289
	Index	292