

Contents

Introduction	1
Chapter 1 The consequences of the 'accidental boom', 1986-89	4
Chapter 2 Stagflation: Lessons from other places	25
Chapter 3 Education and training in Britain: Getting the questions right	70
Chapter 4 What can Britain learn from Sweden's commitment to full employment?	89
Chapter 5 Employment and education programmes in the United States	129
Chapter 6 Regional and urban unemployment and its consequences	155

Chapter 7	How should employment and training, education, urban and regional and enterprise policies be coordinated in Britain?	176
Chapter 8	Racial disadvantage and the economic cycle	197
Bibliography		226