

Contents

Introduction.....	1
Manfred Binder, Martin Jänicke, Ulrich Petschow, Klaus Jacob, Jan Nill
Dirty Industries in Decline: An Introduction to the Case Studies	13
Manfred Binder
A. THEORETICAL APPROACHES
Towards an End to the “Era of Materials”? Discussion of a Hypothesis	45
Martin Jänicke
Structural Change in Basic Industries and the Environment – Theoretical Foundations and Classic Economic Theories	59
Stefan Zundel
New Theoretical Perspectives on Industrial Restructuring and their Implications for (Green) Industrial Policy	73
Jan Nill and Ulrich Petschow (with Matthias Jahncke)
An Evolutionary Perspective on Structural Change and the Role of Technology	97
Frank Jöst
Sectoral Network Structures as Determinants of Structural Change.....	113
Patrick Kenis
Industrial Complexes as the Centres of Gravity for Green Industrial Restructuring.....	123
Winfried Ruigrok
Multinational Enterprises and Industrial Restructuring: A Strategic Environmental Management Approach	139
Ans Kolk
Opportunities for a Green Industrial Policy from an Evolutionary Technology Perspective	151
René Kemp
Global Change and the Economic Charm of the Environment	171
Franz Lehner

B. THE CASE STUDIES

Chlorine Production in Germany	187
Klaus Jacob
Fertiliser Production in Austria	217
Harald Payer
Coal and Steel in Western Europe	243
Manfred Binder and Simone Schucht
Aluminium Production in Germany	287
Simone Schucht
Cement Production in Austria	301
Walter Hüttler
Cement Production in Denmark	323
Børge Klemmensen
Oil Refineries in France	353
Samir Allal, Natacha Amorsi, Sylvie Faucheux and Julia Haake
Oil Refineries in the Netherlands	385
Jan van der Straaten
Nuclear Energy in Germany	403
Annette Piening	