

TABLE OF CONTENTS

FOREWORD	3
CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION	9
The concept of welfare-to-work: an overview of international trends and issues	9
The local dimension.....	26
Structure of the book	36

PART I

LOCAL APPROACHES TO WELFARE-TO-WORK. AN ASSESSMENT OF RECENT INNOVATIONS

CHAPTER 2: CREATING THE BALANCE BETWEEN LOCAL FLEXIBILITY AND A CENTRAL FRAMEWORK	41
Introduction	41
Strengths of local flexibility	41
The limitations of policy design and management at a local level	45
The role of a central framework	47
Achieving the right balance between local flexibility and central framework	52
Practical examples of the balance between local and central	53
CHAPTER 3: MAKING LOCAL PARTNERSHIPS WORK.....	61
The importance of local partnerships to welfare-to-work policy	61
Key lessons for the operation of welfare-to-work partnerships.....	65
Engaging the private sector	68
Further issues for partnership approaches	73

CHAPTER 4: PROMISING LOCAL POLICY TOOLS	75
Social enterprises and the creation of new work opportunities	75
In-work financial incentives	85
The personal adviser or counsellor	89
New electronic technologies and job matching	92
Local one-stop-shops	97
Local employer-based training projects.....	99
Promoting the local mobility of labour.....	104
CHAPTER 5: CONCLUSION AND PERSPECTIVES FOR THE FUTURE.....	113
BIBLIOGRAPHY	121

PART II

CASE STUDY PAPERS

CHAPTER 6: A Comparison of Local Approaches to Welfare-to-Work in the United States, the United Kingdom and the Netherlands, by Dr. Dan Finn, Portsmouth University, United Kingdom	127
CHAPTER 7: Issues Raised by Welfare Reform in the United States by Robert Straits, W.J. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research, United States of America	177
CHAPTER 8: Welfare-to-Work Partnerships: Lessons from the United Kingdom, by Professor Mike Campbell, Simon Foy and Jo Hutchinson, Leeds Metropolitan University, United Kingdom	197
CHAPTER 9: United States Experience in Engaging the Business Sector in Welfare-to-Work Policies, by Lyn Hogan, Welfare-to-Work Partnership, United States of America	223
CHAPTER 10: Social Enterprises: A Local Tool for Welfare-to-Work Policies, by Professor Carlo Borzaga, University of Trento, Italy	259
CHAPTER 11: New Approaches to Public Income Support in Canada, by Professor Alice Nakamura, University of Alberta, Ging Wong, Human Resources Development Canada and W. Erwin Diewert, University of British Columbia, Canada	297
ANNEX: THE CONFERENCE PROGRAMME AND SPEAKERS.....	295

Boxes

Box 1. The UK New Deal	14
Box 2. Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) and 'work-first' in the United States.....	19
Box 3. The Australian Mutual Obligation and Work for the Dole initiatives..	21
Box 4. The ' Nouveaux Services - Emplois Jeunes ' programme in France	24
Box 5. The local dimension in the UK New Deal	26
Box 6. The local dimension in United States TANF and other welfare-to-work programmes	29
Box 7. The local dimension in the Australian Job Network and Work for the Dole	31
Box 8. The local dimension in the ' Nouveaux Services - Emplois Jeunes ' programme in France.....	33
Box 9. Innovations stemming from local flexibility and involvement in the UK New Deal	43
Box 10. The balance between central and local in the United States TANF programme.....	49
Box 11. The balance between central and local in the UK New Deal for 18-24 year olds	54
Box 12. Description of the UK Employment Zones programme	56
Box 13. Setting up a New Deal partnership in Wearside, United Kingdom.....	63
Box 14. An example of employer involvement in a UK New Deal partnership.....	70
Box 15. The approach of the Welfare-to-Work Partnership to engaging the private sector in the United States.....	71
Box 16. United Kingdom Intermediate Labour Markets: the case of Glasgow Works.....	77
Box 17. New activities for employment creation: the role of Italia Lavoro.....	81
Box 18. The Self Sufficiency Experiment in British Columbia and New Brunswick, Canada.....	88
Box 19. Profiling as a tool for establishing priorities for intensive assistance ...	91
Box 20. Publicly accessible computer based job-matching services in Canada and Sweden.....	93
Box 21. The one-stop-shop approach in Connecticut, United States.....	99
Box 22. A customised training project in the UK New Deal for 18-24 year olds	102
Box 23. Federal support for local transportation initiatives in the United States.....	107