

Contents

| | |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| Preface | xiii |
| The Authors | xxi |
| The Commentators | xxv |
| | |
| Part One: Confronting Professional Values and Ethical Issues | 1 |
| 1. Organization and Human Systems Development: The Field, the Profession, and the Ethical Issues | 3 |
| 2. A Perspective for Thinking About Ethics | 41 |
| 3. Making Ethical Decisions in Organization and Human Systems Development | 61 |
| | |
| Part Two: Developing a Statement of Values and Ethics | 109 |
| 4. An Annotated Statement: Purposes, Beliefs, Values, and Ethical Principles | 111 |

| | | |
|-----|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 5. | An Annotated Statement: Ethical Guidelines for Practice | 157 |
| | Part Three: Cases and Commentaries | 185 |
| 6. | Negotiating an OD Agreement: The Ethics of Contracting | 189 |
| 7. | Confronting a Clash of Cultures | 212 |
| 8. | Doing Action Research: The Conflicting Roles of Researcher and Consultant | 238 |
| 9. | Alerting Clients to Risks | 251 |
| 10. | Facing Racism and Sexism in Organizations | 271 |
| 11. | A Conflict of Basic Values? | 298 |
| 12. | Looking Ahead: Frontier Issues for Human Systems Development Professionals | 326 |
| | Appendixes | 363 |
| A. | Background of the Values and Ethics Statement | 363 |
| B. | A Statement of Values and Ethics by Professionals in Organization and Human Systems Development, June 1990 | 372 |
| C. | A Statement of Values and Ethics for Professionals in Organization and Human Systems Development, April 1985 | 394 |
| D. | For Further Study: Cases and Commentaries | 410 |
| | Judging Success or Failure • A Work System Design Contract • Confidentiality at What Price? • Freedom, Coercion, Responsibility, and T-Groups • Responsibility for What? and When? • To Terminate or Continue? | |

| | |
|------------------------------------|-----------|
| Contents | xi |
| E. Ethics Resources | 498 |
| F. How the Statement Was Developed | 503 |
| References | 507 |
| Index | 515 |