

Contents

List of Figures	x
List of Tables	xi
Introduction	1
The Collegial Organization and its Generic Social Mechanisms	2
A Broadly Conceived Structural Approach	4
Outline of the Book	10
Beyond Embeddedness Studies of Knowledge-Intensive Firms	16
1. A Structural Theory of Collective Action among Peers	19
A Contractual Basis: The Example of Partnerships as an Institutional Form	19
Beyond Contracts: The Neo-Weberian Approach to Collegial Organizations	22
Behavioural Assumptions and Resulting Social Mechanisms	24
Collegial Organizations as Production and Exchange Systems	33
Collegial Organizations as Lateral Control Regimes	41
Collegial Organizations and the Regulatory Mechanism	45
2. Spencer, Grace & Robbins	52
Corporate Law Firms: An Institutional Form	52
What do Corporate Lawyers Do?	54
Division of Work and Interdependence	56
Spencer, Grace & Robbins	58
SG&R in its Context: The Market for Legal Services in the Region	61
SG&R's Partnership Agreement	63
Informal Rules	72
The Example of Departmentalization	74
Relations between Offices in a Multi-City Firm	75
Workflow: Intake and Assignments	78
Associate Training, Workflow, and Career	81
Built-in Pressures to Grow and Strategic Planning	84
Elusive Committees and Selected Members with Status	87
3. Niches and Status in the Firm: A Specific Exchange System	91
Looking at the Production Structure as a Complex Exchange System	91
Three Production Resources: Co-workers' Goodwill, Advice, and Friendship	93

Long-term Individual Interests, Identifications, and Bounded Solidarity	99
Niches in the Organizational Exchange System: A View at the Structural Level	101
Status in the Organizational Exchange System: Niches and Power	106
Confirming the Existence of Niches: A View at the Dyadic Level	114
The Firm as a Work-Related Generalized Exchange System	124
Desolidarization of Associates	127
4. Economic Performance and Quality Control	132
Economic Performance: What Makes Tenured Partners Work?	133
Professional Performance: Quality Control for Knowledge-Intensive Organizations	149
Informally Distributed Knowledge and Competition for the Authority to Know	160
Advice Flows, Distribution, and Concentration of Professional Authority	162
Distributed Knowledge and Economic Performance	166
Short Cuts for Competitive Advantage among Associates	167
5. Too Many Chefs?	170
Unbounded Status Auctions and the Collegial Blend of Relationships	170
Economic Mitigation of Status Competition	171
Cultivating and Mitigating Status Competition: The Blending Process	173
Social Mitigation of Status Competition: A Multiplex Social Mechanism	175
The Interplay of Resources among Members	175
The Social Structure of Barter	180
6. Organizational Integration: A Montesquieu Structure	182
Centrifugal Forces and Cross-Boundary Exchanges: Relational Stitches	182
Two Forms of Solidarity: Welfare and Patronage in Managing Workflow	185
Schedulers and Rainmakers	187
Teaming Up and Out?	193
RED Sets out of Niches: A Montesquieu Structure	194
Status Heterogeneity and the Balance of Powers among Oligarchs in Collegial Structures	199
7. Pressuring Partners Back to Good Order: A Lateral Control Regime	201
Ethnographic Evidence of Lateral Sanctioning	203
A Structural View on the Second-Order Free-rider Problem	205

Methodology	206
Conceptions of how Expectations Converge on Levers and on Targets	209
Social Niches and Lateral Control	211
Protectors of the Common Good: Status and Lateral Control	227
Leverage Styles: The Importance of Seniority for Collective Responsibility	238
The Social Structure of Collective Responsibility	239
8. Multi-Status Oligarchs and the Negotiation of Precarious Values	242
Policy Issues and Underlying Value Orientations	243
Polarization of Policy Preferences and Status Quo	252
Formal and Informal Regulatory Deliberations	255
The Oligarchs Framing Deliberation on Precarious Values	261
Status Inconsistency and Status Quo: Stifled Entrepreneurial Values	263
The Structural Basis of Normative Order	265
Conclusion	267
The Scope of the Collegial Form	267
Holding One's Own in the Company of Peers	270
The Ethical Problem of Conflicts of Interests	273
Appendices	276
A. Fieldwork and Questionnaire	276
B. Density Tables for Figure 3.1 across the Co-Workers', Advice, and Friendship Networks of all the Lawyers in the Firm	279
C. Definition of Variables Presented in Table 3.3	281
D. Professional Authority and the Distribution of the Authority to Know	282
E. Presentation of Multirelational p^* Models	286
F. A Montesquieu Structure: Spotting RED ('Ready-for-Easy-Defection') Subsets	288
G. Overall Distribution of the Significant Effects on Each Respondent's Choices of Levers Analysed Separately in Chapter 7	291
H. Specialization of the Main Levers: Procedure Followed to Construct Figure 7.6	293
I. Who Guards the Guardians? Procedure Used to Build Figure 7.7	295
J. Partners' Influence Network: Density Table for Figure 8.2	297
Notes	299
References	319
Name Index	335
Subject Index	338

List of Figures

3.1. Overall view of transfers and exchanges of resources in the firm: The co-workers', advice, and friendship networks superimposed	103
3.2. Configurations corresponding to p^* model parameters	125
4.1. Advice seeking in the firm	163
6.1. Relational stitches: Strong ties cross-cutting internal boundaries in the firm	184
6.2. Access to cooperative colleagues: A Montesquieu structure	195
7.1. Partner 35's expectations concerning leverage in the firm	212
7.2. Partner 33's expectations concerning leverage in the firm	213
7.3. Partner 20's expectations concerning leverage in the firm	214
7.4. Partner 18's expectations concerning leverage in the firm	228
7.5. Partner 32's expectations concerning leverage in the firm	229
7.6. Specialization of main sanctioners	232
7.7. Who guards the guardians?	237
8.1. Polarization of policy preferences among partners	252
8.2. Attention allocation in partnership meetings	259

List of Tables

3.1. Correlations between indicators of status in the firm	106
3.2. Distribution of members per variable	118
3.3. p_2 estimates of the effect of various characteristics of partners and associates on their selections of co-workers, advisers, and friends	119
3.4. Relational substructures in the firm: Pseudolikelihood estimates for three univariate p^* models	126
4.1. Variables explaining economic performance	140
4.2. The importance of Blau-ties: Correlation table for performance measurements in 1990 and most frequent types of combination of ties among dyads of actors	143
5.1. Multiplexity of ties in the firm: Parameter estimates for final multivariate p^* model	177
7.1. Effects of selected dimensions of firm formal structure on the choices of levers	216
7.2. An example of the effects of an individual partner's pre-existing ties on his choices of levers: The case of Partner 14	218
7.3. Selection of levers: Conditions under which respondents invest their own relational capital to exercise lateral control for the common good	219
7.4. Table of odds ratios of the nine sub-tables of Table 7.3	220
7.5. Logit analysis of the effect of relationships between respondents and targets and between targets and levers on respondents' choices of levers among their own friends, co-workers, and advisers	221
7.6. Distribution of the different types of two-step control paths, according to the type of tie that is used in each step	223
7.7. Log-linear modelling of ties between respondents, targets, and levers	226
7.8. Effect of partners' importance in the firm on the number of times they are chosen as levers	234
8.1. Correlations between dimensions of status among partners	262
8.2. Correlations between having one or several forms of inconsistent dimensions of status and preferences with regard to changes in management policies	263