

CONTENTS

Introduction to the series	v
Acknowledgements	ix
List of participants	xv
1. INTRODUCTION AND SUMMARY	1
Richard M. Bird and Sijbren Cnossen
Tax reform in the OECD	1
Some reactions to the reforms	6
Summary of conference	8
Conclusion	14
2. PERSONAL INCOME TAX REFORMS IN OECD MEMBER COUNTRIES	17
Sijbren Cnossen and Ken Messere
Introduction and conclusions	17
Revenue developments	19
Tax base issues	23
Mixed tax base and tax rate issues	42
Tax rate issues	55
3. KEY ISSUES IN THE REFORM OF PERSONAL INCOME TAXES	61
Richard Goode
Introduction	61
What should be taxed? The income tax base	62
Inflation adjustments	68
Taxable unit	71
Period and timing of liabilities and payments	72
Tax rates	73
Hybrid tax or just an imperfect income tax?	76
Concluding remarks	79
Commentary by Hans-Werner Sinn	81

4. THE CHOICE BETWEEN INCOME AND CONSUMPTION: EFFICIENCY AND HORIZONTAL EQUITY ASPECTS	85
George R. Zodrow
Introduction	85
Efficiency	87
Horizontal equity	93
A model for making horizontal equity comparisons	100
Conclusion	112
Appendix	113
Commentary by Harvey Galper	116
Commentary by Manfred Rose	119
5. TAXATION OF LABOR INCOME	121
François Bourguignon
Introduction	121
Estimated effects on labor supply	122
The scope for personal income tax reform in France	129
Conclusion	138
Commentary by Georg Tillman	140
Commentary by Jozef M. Ritzen	143
6. IMPLICATIONS OF FAMILY SHARING FOR THE DESIGN OF AN IDEAL PERSONAL TAX SYSTEM	145
Michael J. McIntyre
Introduction	145
An ideal Haig-Simons income tax	147
Two ideal consumption taxes	158
The endowment tax ideal	170
Conclusion	176
Appendix	177
Commentary by Walter Hettich	184
7. THE INTERRELATIONSHIP BETWEEN TAX AND BENEFIT SYSTEMS	187
John A. Kay
Introduction	187
Social insurance: history and concept	188
Social insurance in the UK	189
The interaction of tax and social security	192
Integrating tax and benefits	196

Making integration work	199
Conclusions	202
Appendix	202
Commentary by John Bristow	206
Commentary by Jozef M. Ritzen	209
8. CAPITAL INCOME AND THE FUTURE OF THE INCOME TAX	211
Eugene Steuerle
Introduction	211
The importance of equity considerations	212
Efficiency issues	217
The importance of capital income accounting	221
Administrability	223
Conclusion	226
Commentary by A. Lans Bovenberg	228
Commentary by Charles E. McLure, Jr.	230
9. THE PERSONAL INCOME TAX IN AN INTERDEPENDENT WORLD	235
Richard M. Bird and Charles E. McLure, Jr.
Introduction	235
Personal tax treatment of capital income	237
Personal tax treatment of labor income	248
Conclusion	253
Commentary by Peggy B. Musgrave	256
Commentary by A. Lans Bovenberg	260
10. THE POSITIVE POLITICAL ECONOMY OF INCOME TAXATION	265
Walter Hettich and Stanley L. Winer
Introduction	265
The structure of formal models	266
Basic issues in taxation by modeling tradition	269
Confronting the models with stylized facts	280
Summary and conclusions	286
Commentary by Friedrich Schneider	290
Commentary by Frans van Winden	293
References	297
Name Index	309
Subject Index	313