

Contents

---

Acknowledgements	x
List of Tables	xii
List of Figures	xiii
Preface	xv
Introduction	1
1 What is Work?	7
Introduction	7
Problems of Definition: What is Work?	8
Working Beyond the Contemporary West	12
Historical Rhetorics of Work: Views from Above and Below	15
Radical Approaches to Work	21
Contemporary Western Orientations to Work	26
Domestic Labour	32
Unemployment	40
Conclusion	46
2 Work in Historical Perspective	48
Introduction	48
Pre-Industrial Work	49
The Transition from Feudalism to Proto-Industrialization	53
Factories and Technological Change	57
Occupational Change	60
Work, the Family and Gender	69

---

The Rise of Trade Unionism	73
State Intervention and the Factory Acts	79
The State and the Development of Clerical Labour	83
Women, Work and War	85
Conclusion	88
3 Classical Approaches to Work: Marx, Weber and Durkheim	90
Introduction	90
Marx and Capitalism	91
Durkheim and Industrial Society	100
Weber	104
Conclusion	112
4 Contemporary Theories of Work Organization	113
Introduction: Organizations, Bureaucracies and Professionals	113
Factory Management: Coercion and Paternalism	117
Human Relations	123
Neo-Human Relations	127
Organizational Cultures	131
Critical Theories	134
Systems Theories	136
Contingency Theory	139
Action Theory	141
Political Organizational Theories	143
Foucault and Post-Modernism	145
Actor Networks of Organizational Power	148
Conclusion	150
5 Class, Industrial Conflict and the Labour Process	152
Introduction	152
Theoretical Approaches to Class	153
Class, Wealth and Income	155
Class, Occupation and Inequality	159
Class, Trade Unions and Revolution	164
British Trade Unions and Labourism	165
Class and Industrial Action	169
Accounting for Industrial Action	175
Marx, Taylorism and the Capitalist Labour Process	184
Braverman and the Labour Process	188
Conclusion	197

---

6	Gender, Patriarchy and Trade Unions	199
	Introduction	199
	Theoretical Perspectives on Women and Work	200
	Women and Paid Labour: the Contemporary Evidence	212
	Labour Market Restructuring and Professional Women	219
	Women and Trade Unions	225
	Masculinity, Domestic Labour and Violence	231
	Conclusion	234
7	Race, Ethnicity and Labour Markets: Recruitment and the Politics of Exclusion	236
	Introduction	236
	Labour Markets and Race	242
	Recruitment and Racism	257
	Trade Unions, Workers and Racial Discrimination	265
	Conclusion	273
8	Working Technology	274
	Introduction	274
	Theoretical Approaches to Technology	275
	Flexible Specialization, Fordism, Neo-Fordism, Post-Fordism	294
	Conclusion	306
	Bibliography	307
	Index	351