

Contents

List of tables	vi
Acknowledgements	vii
List of abbreviations and administrative divisions	ix
Introduction	1
1 De-Stalinization, ideology and leisure policy	9
2 A brief history of cultural enlightenment	31
3 Changing content – changing goals?	69
4 Policy and practice 1: party and state	96
5 Policy and practice 2: house of culture staff and the public	114
6 The effectiveness of cultural enlightenment	131
7 Conclusions: the death of Communist cultural enlightenment?	151
Notes	160
Bibliography	178
Index	190

Tables

1	Russian and Polish repertoire material 1986–7.	75
2	Party membership among Soviet club workers, cultural officials and Institute of Culture students and staff.	99
3	‘How, in your opinion, is the profession of cultural worker regarded in society?’ The status of cultural-enlightenment workers in the USSR.	121
4	Attendance of 992 Kashubians at houses of culture, clubs and swietlice , 1970–1, by socio-professional status and place of residence.	142
5	Hungarian house of culture users, by education.	143
6	‘Why do you visit the house of culture?’ The responses of 8,170 Hungarian house of culture users.	146