

---

CONTENTS

---

PREFACE	vii
I. THE UNDERSTANDING OF SOCIETY	1
The Structure of Sociological Theory	3
Theory and Understanding: The Examples of Formal Education and the Role of Women in Contemporary Society	13
II. FUNCTIONALISM	15
Introduction	16
Intellectual Roots: The Influence of Emile Durkheim	18
PART ONE Talcott Parsons: Grand Theory	26
Background	26
Parsons' System Levels	27
Parsons' Theory of Action	30
The Pattern Variables	31
The Functional System Problems—AGIL	37
Social Change	46
PART TWO Robert K. Merton: Middle-Range Theory	55
Background	55
Theories of the Middle Range	56
Clarifying Functional Analysis	57
Merton's Theory of Deviance	65
The Role-Set	67
Neofunctionalism	69
Conclusion	73
III. CONFLICT THEORY	75
Introduction: The Two Traditions	76
Intellectual Roots	78

PART ONE Conflict Theory and the Critique of Society 88
Marxist and Neo-Marxist Sociology 90
Critical Theory: The Frankfurt School and Jürgen Habermas 115
C. Wright Mills 133
PART TWO Conflict Theory and Analytic Sociology: The Legacy of Max Weber 139
Ralf Dahrendorf 140
Lewis Coser 149
Randall Collins 158
Conclusion 172

IV. THEORIES OF RATIONAL CHOICE 175

Introduction 176
Intellectual Roots 178
PART ONE Rational Choice and Individual Behavior 185
George Homans: Elementary Social Behavior 185
The Consequences of Individual Choice: Rationality Applied 202
PART TWO Rational Choice and the Analysis of Social Structure 211
Peter Blau: Exchange and Social Integration 211
Exchange and Power: Blau and Emerson 218
Institutional Structures and the "Problem of Collective Action" 223
Conclusion 231

V. SYMBOLIC INTERACTIONISM 235

Introduction 236
Intellectual Roots: The Influence of Max Weber and Georg
Simmel 237
PART ONE George Herbert Mead: The Self 241
The Self 242
Self-interaction 244
The Development of the Self 247
Symbolic Meaning 249
PART TWO Herbert Blumer: Interpretation and Methodology 251
Interpretation 252
The Three Basic Premises 254
Structure and Process 258
Methodology 263
PART THREE Erving Goffman: Dramaturgy and the Interaction
Order 273
Background 273
Dramaturgy and Everyday Life 276
The Interaction Order 280

PART FOUR	Toward a New Social Theory of Emotion	283
	Previous Work	283
	Arlie Russell Hochschild: Emotion Work	285
	Other Contributions	286
	Conclusion	288

VI. PHENOMENOLOGY 289

	Introduction	290
	Intellectual Roots: The Influence of Edmund Husserl and Alfred Schutz	291
PART ONE	Harold Garfinkel: The Founder of Ethnomethodology	293
	Background	294
	Ethnomethodology Defined	295
	Accounting	300
	Doing Ethnomethodology	302
	Methodological Comparisons	307
PART TWO	Peter Berger: The Social Construction of Reality	311
	Background	311
	Key Concepts	312
	Conclusion	318

VII. ALTERNATIVE PERSPECTIVES 320

PART ONE	Structuralism	321
	French Structuralism	322
	American Structuralism: Peter Blau	329
PART TWO	Structuration Theory: Anthony Giddens	338
PART THREE	Sociobiology	347
	The "New Biology": Selfish Genes and Altruistic Creatures	349
	Biology and Culture	356

VIII. CONCLUSION 365

PART ONE	Social Theory and Understanding: The Value of Multiple Perspectives	366
	Exploring Formal Education: Five Views of the School	366
	Exploring the Role of Women in Contemporary Society	371
PART TWO	Historical Trends	375

SELECTED BIBLIOGRAPHY 378

INDEX 388