

Contents

Illustrations	vii
Foreword by John Rennie Short	ix
Contributors	xi
1. Introduction: Anthropology at Home Irene Cieraad	1
2. Domesticity in Dispute: A Reconsideration of Sources Heidi de Mare	13
3. Dutch Windows: Female Virtue and Female Vice Irene Cieraad	31
4. The Ins and Outs of the Hall: A Parisian Example Céline Rosselin	53
5. “I’ve Always Fancied Owning Me Own Lion”: Ideological Motivations in External House Decoration by Recent Homeowners John A. Dolan	60
6. Bringing Modernity Home: Open Plan in the British Domestic Interior Judy Attfield	73

Contents

7. The French Two-Home Project: Materialization of Family Identity Sophie Chevalier	83
8. Home: The Experience of Atmosphere Paul J. J. Pennartz	95
9. Negotiating Space in the Family Home Moirra Munro and Ruth Madigan	107
10. The Domestication of Laundering Rudi Laermans and Carine Meulders	118
11. Constructing Home: A Crossroads of Choices Elizabeth Shove	130
12. “Postmodern” Home Life Tim Putnam	144
Works Cited	155
Index	173

Illustrations

2.1. Floor plan. Engraving.	16
2.2. One of the five plans of housing blocks for burghers. Engraving.	17
2.3. Jan Steen, The Dissolute Household . Painting.	21
2.4. Jan Steen, The Merry Family . Painting.	22
2.5. Jan Steen, The Way You Hear It Is the Way You Sing It . Painting.	22
2.6. Jan Steen, Beware of Luxury . Painting.	23
2.7. Pieter de Hooch, Man Handing a Letter to a Woman in the Front Hall of a House . Painting.	24
2.8. Pieter de Hooch, A Mother's Task . Painting.	25
2.9. Pieter de Hooch, Interior with Women beside a Linen Chest . Painting.	26
2.10. Pieter de Hooch, Woman with a Child in a Pantry . Painting.	27
3.1. Gabriel Metsu, Woman Reading a Letter . Painting.	34
3.2. Caspar Philips Jacobszoon, Herengracht 539–543, Het Grachtenboek . Engraving.	35
3.3. Marc Kolthoff, A prostitute sitting at the window. Photograph.	37
3.4. Blocks of flats with large window frames as prefab facades, Amsterdam. Photograph.	38
3.5. Sixth emblem to J. de Leenheer, Maria, virgo, mystica sub solis imagine. Emblematicè expressa. Opusculum votivum . Engraving.	41
3.6. Gabriel Metsu, Man Writing a Letter . Painting.	42

Illustrations

- |  |    |
|--|----|
| 3.7. Cornelis Troost, Déclaration d'amour de René à Sarotte . Drawing.  | 45 |
| 5.1. An imitation of the dark-timbered, white wattle and daub English country cottage. Photograph.                           | 61 |
| 5.2. Heritage idyll with vestigial, heraldic features. Photograph.   | 61 |
| 5.3. Two distinguishing totem architectural expressions: the enclosed glazed porch and the front boundary fence. Photograph. | 67 |
| 5.4. A stone facade apes the prestige attached to idylls of rural life and living. Photograph.                               | 69 |
| 5.5. To translate "home" into marketplace "commodity" means that emblematic features are absent. Photograph.                 | 71 |
| 7.1. Stuffed birds. Photograph.  | 89 |
| 7.2. Plate from a former Élysée service: a collector's item. Photograph.   | 91 |