

Contents

List of Figures, Tables, and Exhibits	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Preface	xiii

Part 1: The Family Business System

1. Why Family Business Consulting?	3
What Is a Family Business?	5
Family Firm Systems	6
Family Business Consulting	10
The Development of the Field	12
2. Characteristics of “Healthy” Family Businesses	19
Healthy Family Businesses	20
Unhealthy Family Enterprises	22
Strengths and Weaknesses	23

Part 2: Consulting to Family Businesses

3. Contracting and Assessment	31
The Consulting Process	32
First Contact	33
Chemistry Meeting	36
Proposal/Engagement Letter/Contract	40
Assessment and Diagnosis	43
Are We There Yet?	60
4. Feedback and Planning	63
Feedback and Action Planning	65
Creating New Solutions	75
Planning Ahead: After the Feedback Session	78
Additional Tips for a Feedback Meeting	79
Dealing with Conflicts	82
5. Intervening in Family Firms	91
Intervening in Family Firms	94
Implementation Phase of the Action Research Model	95
The Intervention Grid	105
Resistance	106
Types of Interventions	107
Family Dynamics Issues	121
Guidelines for Interventions	125
6. Helping Family Firms Make Developmental Transitions	129
Developmental Stages and Tasks	131
Transitional Dynamics	140
Assessing the Client's Abilities to Work Through Developmental Stages	142
Guidelines for Consultants	142
Implications for Practice	143

Part 3: The Family Business Consultant

7. Skills and Ethics of the Family Business Consultant	159
Self-Assessment	161
Knowledge and Skills Required	164
Multidisciplinary Teams	170
Fees	174
Ethical Issues	177
8. Special Situations and Challenges	183
Copreneurs	184
Emotions	192
Addictions	198
Gender Issues	201
Nonfamily Managers	203
Family Office/Family Foundations	206
Ethnicity	210
9. The Rewards and Challenges of Consulting to Family Businesses	211
Afterword	231
References	235
About the Series	245
Statement of the Board	249
Afterword to the Series	255
About the Editors	257
About the Authors	261
Index	263

List of Figures, Tables, and Exhibits

Figure 1.1	Systems of a Family Firm	7
Table 1.1	A Comparison of Family and Business Systems	8
Figure 1.2	Role of the Family Business Consultant	15
Table 2.1	Strengths and Weaknesses of Family Firms	23
Figure 3.1	The Consulting Process	33
Table 3.1	The First Four Phases of the Consulting Process	34
Exhibit 3.1	Sample Engagement Letter	41
Figure 3.2	Reading a Genogram	45
Figure 3.3	Thomas Family Genogram	47
Figure 3.4	Whom to Interview in Family Firms	48
Table 3.2	Areas for Assessment	50
Exhibit 3.2	Interview Questions	51
Figure 3.5	Equilibrium	57
Figure 3.6	Reinforcing Loop	58
Table 4.1	Feedback Phase of the Action Research Model	64

Table 4.2	Attributes, Outcomes, and Risks of Providing Feedback	67
Exhibit 4.1	Agenda for Smith Family Retreat	73
Exhibit 4.2	Agenda for Jones Family Retreat	75
Table 4.3	Clients' Reactions to Feedback and the Consultant's Responses	78
Table 4.4	Simple and Complex Conflicts	83
Exhibit 4.3	Retreat Exercises	86
Table 5.1	Implementation Phase of the Action Research Model	96
Table 5.2	Levels of Intervention	100
Figure 5.1	The Intervention Grid	105
Table 5.3	Types of Interventions	108
Exhibit 5.1	Council Meeting Agenda	116
Exhibit 5.2	Action Planning Worksheet	117
Exhibit 5.3	Guidelines for a Family Council Meeting	118
Exhibit 5.4	Kelly Family Council Meeting Agenda	118
Exhibit 5.5	Sample Goal-Setting Chart	119
Exhibit 5.6	Interdisciplinary Matrix	120
Table 6.1	The Individual Lifecycle	132
Table 6.2	Developmental Stages of the Family	134
Table 6.3	Lifecycles of Organizations	137
Table 6.4	Handler's Model of Resistance to Succession	152
Exhibit 7.1	Self-Assessment for Family Business Consultants	161
Table 7.1	Types of Support and Advice	168
Table 7.2	Multidisciplinary Study Sheet for Family Business Issues	172
Table 7.3	Billing Practices	174
Exhibit 7.2	FFI Code of Professional Ethics	179
Table 8.1	Couples' Dances and Associated Business Risks	186
Exhibit 8.1	The Left-Hand Column	194