

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of tables	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Manuel Castells: Conceptualizing the City in the Information Age Ida Susser	1
Part I A Theoretical Approach to the City in Advanced Capitalism	13
1 Urbanization (1972)	15
Epistemological Introduction	15
The Historical Process of Urbanization	20
The Urban Phenomenon	21
2 The Urban Ideology (1972)	34
The Myth of Urban Culture	35
From Urban Society to Urban Revolution	44
The Urban Sub-cultures	53
Part II Social Movements and Urban Culture	71
3 Immigrant Workers and Class Struggles in Advanced Capitalism: The Western European Experience (1975)	73
4 Collective Consumption and Urban Contradictions in Advanced Capitalism (1978)	107
5 City and Culture: The San Francisco Experience (1983)	130
San Francisco: The Social Basis of Urban Quality	130
Urban Poverty, Ethnic Minorities and Community Organization: The Experience of Neighbourhood Mobilization in San Francisco's Mission District	139

Cultural Identity, Sexual Liberation and Urban Structure: The Gay Community in San Francisco	180
Methodological Appendix	231
Part III The City in the Information Age	253
6 The Informational Mode of Development and the Restructuring of Capitalism (1989)	255
7 Information Technology, the Restructuring of Capital- Labor Relationships, and the Rise of the Dual City (1989)	285
8 The Space of Flows (1996, 2nd edn 2000)	314
9 The Culture of Cities in the Information Age (1999)	367
Conclusion: Urban Sociology in the Twenty-first Century (2000)	390
Bibliography of Urban and Regional Studies by Manuel Castells, 1967–2000	407
Index	412

Figures

5.1	Location of the Mission neighborhood in the city of San Francisco	140
5.2	Gay residential areas	191
5.3	Gay residential areas as indicated by the proportion of multiple male households over the total of registered voters in each census tract, 1977	192
5.4	Places where gays gather, 1964–1980 (including bars and social clubs) showing a sequential and cumulative development	193
5.5	Golden Gate Business Association members, 1979	194
5.6	Gay voting pattern that indicates two top ranking precincts in support of Harvey Milk in the 1975 supervisorial race	195
5.7	Family, property, high rents, and gay residential areas	200
5.8	Informant basemap: gay residential expansion areas (1980s)	201
5.9	San Francisco supervisorial districts ranked by liberal/conservative scores	219
5A.1	Ethnic composition (white versus non-white) of districts in San Francisco, 1970	242
7.1	Payroll employment in manufacturing and finance, business and related professional services, New York City, 1977–1987	290
7.2	Estimated distribution of the New York City resident labor force by race and Hispanic origin, 1987	291
7.3	Labor force participation rates, United States and New York City, 1967–1987	292
7.4	Geographical distribution of households by income, New York metropolitan region, 1979	300
7.5	Corporate and banking headquarters in the Los Angeles region	304
7.6	Distribution of major ethnic groups in the Los Angeles area, 1980	305
7.7	Residential location of engineers, Los Angeles County, 1980	306

8.1	Largest absolute growth in information flows, 1982 and 1990	318
8.2	Exports of information from the United States to major world regions and centers	319
8.3	System of relationships between the characteristics of information technology manufacturing and the industry's spatial pattern	325
8.4	The world's largest urban agglomerations (>10 million inhabitants in 1992)	338
8.5	Diagrammatic representation of major nodes and links in the urban region of the Pearl River Delta	339
8.6	Downtown Kaoshiung	351
8.7	The entrance hall of Barcelona airport	352
8.8	The waiting room at D. E. Shaw and Company	353
8.9	Belleville, 1999: a multicultural, urban place	355
8.10	Las Ramblas, Barcelona, 1999: city life in a liveable place	356
8.11	Barcelona: Paseo de Gracia	357
8.12	Irvine, California: business complex	358

Tables

1.1	Situation and projections of the urban phenomenon in the world (1920–1960 and 1960–1980) in millions	26
1.2	Evolution of urbanization according to levels of development	29
1.3	Growth of large urban areas in the world, 1920–1960	30
3.1	Immigration from Mediterranean countries towards selected European countries	76
3.2	Departures (returns) of foreign workers from Germany	79
3.3	Immigration, unemployment and economic growth in France, 1960–1971	80
3.4	Immigration, unemployment and economic growth in Belgium, 1960–1970	82
3.5	Immigration, unemployment and economic growth in The Netherlands, 1958–1971	83
3.6	Immigration, unemployment and economic growth in Germany, 1958–1972	84
3.7	Wages of foreign workers compared to all workers in France, 1968	87
3.8	Rates of activity by nationality in Germany, September 1969	88
3.9	Rates of activity by country of birth in Great Britain, 1966	88
3.10	Rates of activity by nationality and sex in France, 1968	89
3.11	Family immigration to France and Germany	89
3.12	Females as a percentage of immigrants	90
3.13	Socio-economic status of foreign employees in Germany by nationality and sex, 1968	91
3.14	Socio-economic status of foreign and Swiss employees, 1960	91
3.15	Foreign employees in France by socio-economic status, by nationality, 1967	92
5.1	Evolution of Spanish-surname population in the Mission District of San Francisco, 1940–1970	170

5.2	Housing trends, Mission Model Neighbourhood and San Francisco, 1940–1970	171
5.3	Statistical difference in the values of selected variables for spatial areas with significant gay residence and without significant gay residence, San Francisco, c. 1970	196
5.4	Spearman correlation coefficients between the rank of census tracts of San Francisco ordered in a six-level scale according to the proportion of multiple male households among registered voters resident in 1977, and five other scales as indicated	199
5A.1	Analysis of the elements of the MCO's process of mobilization	236
5A.2	Ethnic composition of neighbourhoods	239
5A.3	Family income levels	240
5A.4	Employment category	240
5A.5	Educational level	240
5A.6	Land use	241
5A.7	Owners and renters	241
5A.8	Distribution of the Mission neighbourhood active resident population by occupational category, 1970	241
5A.9	Votes for supervisor in 1977 election, District 6	242
5A.10	Mission-based community organizations and community-based social agencies active in 1980	243
5A.11	Sexual preference of a representative sample of San Francisco residents by age and sex	248
5A.12	Businesses registered as members of the gay business association by type of activity	249
7.1	Employment changes by industry's average educational requirements for nine US cities, 1970–1980	287
7.2	Ethnic composition of occupations in New York City, 1980, by gender	294
7.3	Occupational specialization of the resident labor force in the New York metropolitan region, 1950, 1970, and 1980	298