Dominant Themes in the Literature Reviewed	72
Themes 1 & 2. Alliance and Community Formation.	73
Themes 3 & 4. The Generation of Community Cooperation and Government.	73
The Process a Four-Phased Sequence	74
Phase 1. Making allies with the intention of securing common interests by joined forces.	74
Phase 2. Merging self-interest in common interest yields an augmentation of forces that is experienced as constituting one's own community, and a consolidation of power within that community makes effective attack possible.	75
Phase 3. The development of controls to govern continuing differences of interest: by norms of convention (including status norms) and by law.	76
Phase 4. The establishment and legitimation of a governing authority.	77
