

Contents

Contributors	ix
Preface	xi
Introduction	xiii
Part I Research perspectives	1
1 Alternative perspectives in the organizational sciences: 'inquiry from the inside' and 'inquiry from the outside' Roger Evered and Meryl Reis Louis	7
2 Multiple paradigm analysis: a methodology for management research John S. Hassard	23
3 The case for the natural science model for research in organizational behaviour and organization theory Orlando Behling	44
4 Meaningful management research: the meaning of science and the meaning in science in relation to management research Paul Dainty	57
5 What is management research? Roger Bennett	67
Part II Research methods	79
6 How is management research carried out? Roger Bennett	85

7	Research methodology in organizational studies Philip M. Podsakoff and Dan R. Dalton	104
8	Ethnomethodology and organization: an introduction John S. Hassard	132
9	The case-study: a vital yet misunderstood research method for management N. Craig Smith	145
10	Management field research using repertory grid technique: problems and possibilities Paul Dainty	159
11	Choosing a survey method in management research David Jobber	174
12	Designing and using mail questionnaires Paul B. Cragg	181
13	A first-time user's guide to the collection and analysis of interview data from senior managers Susan J. Hart	190
	Part III Research contexts	205
14	The context of doctoral research N. Craig Smith	215
15	Learning to do research Estelle M. Phillips	227
16	Understanding supervisory relationships Paul Jeffcutt and Alan Thomas	237
17	Writing up the doctoral thesis Norman Clark	245
18	The social process of research: some reflections on developing a multi-disciplinary accounting project Cyril Tomkins, David Rosenberg, and Ian Colville	252
19	Researching in teams: lessons from experience M. King, R. Lee, J. Piper, and J. Whittaker	278
20	Politics and ethics in action research Andrew Kakabadse	289

21 Data collection for management research in developing countries	300
Kavil Ramachandran
Index	310