

Table of Contents

Preface

Chapter 1 Introduction: Objectives and Theoretical Framework	17
1.1. Context and Objectives of the Dissertation	17
1.1.1. Context of the Dissertation: The NETS Project	17
1.1.2. Objectives and Structure of the Dissertation	21
1.2. Theoretical and Empirical Framework of Third Sector Research	23
1.2.1 Explanatory Approaches of a “Third Sector”	24
1.2.1.1. Definitions and Terminology	24
1.2.1.2. Theoretical Approaches	30
1.2.2. Empirical Research on the German Third Sector	37
1.2.3. Trend of Tertiarization as Major Factor for Employment Growth in the Third Sector	45
1.2.3.1. Definitory and Classificatory Difficulties	45
1.2.3.2. Overview of the Quantitative Process of Tertiarization	52
1.2.3.3. Dynamics Affecting Personal Social Services and the Third Sector	56
Chapter 2 Review of the German Third Sector’s Legal Basis	61
2.1. Legal Forms Eligible for Nonprofit Purposes	61
2.1.1. Voluntary Associations (Vereine)	62
2.1.2. Foundations (Stiftungen)	66
2.1.3. Cooperatives (Genossenschaften)	70
2.1.4. Limited Liability Companies (GmbH)	73
2.2. Tax Treatment of NPOs	76
2.2.1. Tax Treatment of Organizations	76
2.2.2. Tax Treatment of Contributions to Domestic NPOs	79
2.2.3. Taxation of Business Activities	80
2.3. Law Regulating Public Grant-Giving	80
2.3.1. Types of Grant-Giving and Forms of Subsidizing	82

2.3.2.	Application Procedures	83
2.3.3.	Use and Proof of Public Grants	84
Chapter 3	Empirical Part: The Survey	87
3.1.	Objectives and Methodology	87
3.1.1.	Objectives of the Survey and Choice of Methods	87
3.1.1.1.	Objectives of the Survey	87
3.1.1.2.	Choice of Methods	88
3.1.2.	Methodology of the Written Survey	89
3.1.2.1.	Designing the Questionnaire	89
3.1.2.2.	Sampling	92
3.1.2.2.1.	Defining and Classifying the “Third Sector”	92
3.1.2.2.2.	Sampling Procedure	95
3.1.2.3.	Realization of the Survey and Return Rate	99
3.1.2.4.	Comparing the Sampling Quota With Found Characteristics	101
3.1.2.5.	Coding of the Questionnaire and Data Input	104
3.1.2.6.	Evaluation Process and Presentation of Results	105
3.1.3.	Methodology of the Expert Interviews	105
3.1.3.1.	Development of the Interview Guide	105
3.1.3.2.	Choice of the Interview Partners	108
3.1.3.3.	Conduction of the Interviews	112
3.1.3.4.	Evaluation Process	113
3.2.	Univariate Results of the Questionnaire	115
3.2.1.	Characteristics of the Organizations	115
3.2.2.	Revenues and Expenses in the Budgets of TSOs	120
3.2.2.1.	Amounts of Budget, Revenue Forms and Financial Dependencies	120
3.2.2.2.	Compositions of Expenses and Use of Surplus	124
3.2.2.3.	“Marketing Policies” and Pricing Strategies of NPOs	126
3.2.3.	Employment and Personnel Management	127
3.2.3.1.	Employment Situation in 1997	127
3.2.3.2.	Trends of Employment Between 1995 and 1997	131
3.2.3.3.	Personnel Policies, Skill Needs, and Participation	132
3.2.4.	Present and Future Policies for the Third Sector	136
3.2.4.1.	Assessments of Present Policies	137
3.2.4.2.	Demands for Future Policies	138
3.2.4.3.	Assessments of General Social and Economic Policies for the Third Sector	139

3.3.	Bivariate Analysis of the Results	140
3.3.1.	Characteristics Regarding Main Fields of Activity	140
3.3.1.1.	Main Fields of Activity and Age of Organizations	140
3.3.1.2.	Main Fields of Activity and Legal Forms	141
3.3.2.	Determinants of the Budget Size	142
3.3.2.1.	Budget Size and Main Fields of Activity	142
3.3.2.2.	Budget Size and Legal Forms	143
3.3.3.	Determinants of the Composition of Budgets	144
3.3.3.1.	Budget Size and Composition of Budgets	144
3.3.3.2.	Main Fields of Activity and Composition of Budgets	145
3.3.3.3.	Legal Forms and Composition of Budgets	147
3.3.4.	Structure of Expenses and Macro-Areas of Activity	148
3.3.5.	Use of Surplus and Macro-Areas of Activity	149
3.3.6.	Marketing Policies and Legal Forms	151
3.3.7.	Determinants of Employment	151
3.3.7.1.	Employment and Legal Form	151
3.3.7.2.	Employment and Main Fields of Activity	154
3.3.7.3.	Employment in East and West Germany	156
3.3.7.4.	Employment and Budget Size	159
3.3.7.5.	Employment and Composition of Budgets	161
3.3.8.	Demanded Policies for Employment: Cross-Analyses	163
3.3.8.1.	Preferences in Different Macro-Areas	163
3.3.8.2.	Preferences According to the Budget Size	163
3.3.8.3.	Preferences According to the Size of Labour Force	164
3.4.	Results of the Interviews	164
3.4.1.	Future Employment Prospects of the Third Sector	165
3.4.2.	Assessment of the Legal Framework of the Third Sector	170
3.4.3.	Economic Conditions: How to Achieve More Autonomy From the State	176
3.4.4.	Assessment of Public Support for Nonprofit Start-Ups	181
3.4.5.	Looking for Fresh Money: Should Banks and Foundations be More Committed?	183
3.4.6.	Internal NPO-Affairs: Need of Action Regarding Working Conditions?	185
3.4.7.	Assessment of Needs for Further Training in the Third Sector	187
3.4.8.	Relevance of Internal and External Participation for Innovation in the TS	190
3.4.9.	Assessment of the European Common Market for the TS	193
3.4.10.	Demands on Politics: Most Urgent Reforms	195

Chapter 4	Employment Potentials of the Third Sector: Key Factors, Prospects, Policy Proposals	199
4.1.	Key Factors for Employment	199
4.1.1.	Legal Form as a Key Factor	200
4.1.2.	Fields of Activity as Key Factors	201
4.1.3.	Amount of Budget as a Key Factor	202
4.1.4.	Composition of Budget as a Key Factor	203
4.2.	Employment Perspectives: Hypotheses of the Future	204
4.2.1.	Slowed Down "Job Machine" in Publicly Financed Fields	204
4.2.2.	Possible Job Prospects in New Services and Ecological Fields	204
4.2.3.	Urgent Need for Removing Obstacles for Job Creation	205
4.2.4.	More Reliable Financial Basis Instead of Patchwork Funding	205
4.3.	Proposals for Active, Job Promoting Policies for the Third Sector	206
4.3.1.	Proposals for Improving the Legal Framework of the TS	206
4.3.1.1.	Reforms Concerning the Legal Forms of NPOs	206
4.3.1.1.1.	The Legal Framework for Associations	206
4.3.1.1.2.	The Legal Basis for Foundations	209
4.3.1.1.3.	The Legal Basis for Cooperatives	211
4.3.1.2.	Reforms Concerning the Economic Situation of NPOs	213
4.3.1.2.1.	Taxation Laws Regulating the "Public Benefit Status"	213
4.3.1.2.2.	Law Regulating Public Grant-Giving (Zuwendungsrecht)	215
4.3.1.2.3.	Employment Promotion Act (Arbeitsförderungsgesetz)	216
4.3.2.	Proposals for Direct Job Promotion in the Third Sector	218
4.3.2.1.	Job Promotion in Promising New Fields of Activity	218
4.3.2.2.	Combining Employment Promotion and Economic Aids	220
Chapter 5	Impact of Policies on National Public Expenditure	223
5.1.	Objectives and Contents of the Analysis	223
5.2.	Realization	224
5.2.1.	Operationalization	224
5.2.1.1.	Public Promotion of Employment by Active Labour Market Policy	224
5.2.1.2.	Expansion of Public Demand for Services of the Third Sector	225
5.2.1.3.	Quantitative Comparison of Subsidies for the Sectors of 'Public Benefit' and 'Private Industry'	226

5.2.2.	Selection of Exemplary City States and Subcontracting	227
5.3.	Results of the Evaluation	228
5.3.1.	Public Promotion of Employment	229
5.3.1.1.	Background Information on Employment and Unemployment in the FRG	229
5.3.1.1.1.	Basic Data on the Employment Situation in the FRG and the City States	229
5.3.1.1.2.	Employment Promotion: Financing and Number of Jobs	234
5.3.1.1.3.	Employment Policy and Third Sector	242
5.3.1.2.	Cost-Benefit Analysis of Active Employment Promotion	248
5.3.2.	Expansion of the Public Demand for Child Care Services	250
5.3.2.1.	General Situation of Child Care Services in the FRG	250
5.3.2.2.	Results of the Exemplary Studies in Bremen and Berlin	256
5.3.2.2.1.	Methodical Problems	257
5.3.2.2.2.	Supply Situation	258
5.3.2.2.3.	Additional Demand	259
5.3.2.2.4.	Employment Potential of an Expansion of Child Care in Bremen	261
5.3.2.2.5.	Cost Effects	263
5.3.2.2.6.	Projection of the Bremen Data to the Western Laender	264
5.3.2.2.7.	Conclusions	264
5.3.3.	Comparative Analysis of Public Funds for the Third Sector and the Private Sector	265
5.3.3.1.	General Methodical Problems	265
5.3.3.2.	Results of the Exemplary Studies in Bremen and Berlin	268
5.4.	Conclusion	270
Chapter 6	Final Conclusions	273
Appendix		279
	References	280
	Tables and Graphs Illustrating the Empirical Survey	305
	Questionnaire of Postal Survey	343
	Interview Guide	352

Index of Tables

- Tables Included in the Text -

Chapter 1

Table 1	Employment and Expenditures in the German Nonprofit Sector in 1990 / 1995	41
Table 2	ICNPO Classification of Main Fields	42
Table 3	Types of Organizations Included in the German Study of JHP	42
Table 4	Tertiarization: Proportions of Employment in Economic Sectors	52
Table 5	Trends Within Single Service Branches 1985 – 1994 in West Germany	53
Table 6	Growing Activity Rate of Women in West Germany	54

Chapter 2

Table 1	Distinction Between “Ideal” and “Commercial” Association	64
---------	--	----

Chapter 3

Table 1	Structural-Functional Definition of the Third Sector: Defining Criteria	93
Table 2a	Main Fields of Third Sector Activities: NETS Classification	94
Table 2b	Main Fields of Third Sector Activities: ICNPO Classification	95
Table 3	Distribution of Associations Across Main Fields of Activity	102
Table 4	East / West Distribution of the Sample	103
Table 5	Distribution Across Federal States in East and West Germany	103
Table 6	Distribution Among Legal Forms	104

Chapter 5

Table 1	Dynamics of Unemployment in the FRG 1995 – 2000	230
Table 2	Unemployment in Berlin and Bremen 1998 - 2000	231
Table 3	Proportions of Certain Groups on all Unemployed (Feb. 2000)	232
Table 4	Structure of Female and Male Unemployment (Feb. 2000)	233
Table 5	Funding of Discretionary Employment Promotion Measures	234
Table 6	Objectives and Conditions of Important Employment Promotion Measures	237
Table 7	Annual Average Number of Promoted Persons / Target Groups in 1998	240
Table 8	Employment Promotion Measures in Berlin / Bremen	242
Table 9	Employment Promotion Measures in the FRG 1990 – 1999	245

Table 10	Supply Situation of Day Care in 1994	253
Table 11	Cornerstones of Supply Situation in Berlin and Bremen in '98	258
Table 12	Estimated Additional Day Care Demand in Bremen	260
Table 13	Estimation of Additional Demand, Personnel and Costs in West Germany	264
Table 14	Estimated Subsidies in Berlin, 1998	270