

Contents

Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction	1
1 • A Political Sociology of Educational Reform: Power, Knowledge, and Schooling	13
Events as Change: The Instance, the Individual, and the Universal	17
Relations of Time and Structure: Problems of Social Change	20
History, Epistemology, and Power	24
Knowledge and Power as Epistemological Problems	32
Institutional Development, the State, and Schooling	41
Conclusions	43
2 • Social Identity and Professionalization: The Construction of 19th-Century Teaching as an Element of State Building	45
The Formation of the Modern State and the Progressive Reforms	46
Schooling as Locally Organized State Activity	52
The Changing Social and Moral Authority in Schooling	56
Professional Images and Occupational Identity	66
Conclusions	76
3 • Social Science During the Formative Years of Mass Schooling: State Policy and the University	78
Professionalization and the Authority of Science	79
Social Sciences and the Emergence of Mass Schooling	92
Conclusions	102

4 • Contemporary Teaching and Teacher Education Reforms: Reconstituting a State Bureaucratic Apparatus and Forming a Political Discourse	104
Previous State Modernization in Education:
An Incomplete Process	106
Social Transformations and the Steering of Schooling	110
Reconstituting an Administrative Capacity	116
A Politics of Reconstitution: Philanthropy, Professions, Businesses, and Unions	125
The Political Location of the University as a Dynamic of the State	129
Conclusions	133
5 • Educational Reform as a Discourse of Social Organization and Regulation: The Proposals of the 1980s	136
Expertism and Social Amelioration: The Reform of the 1960s	137
The Present in Relation to the Past: The New Calling	144
Schooling and a Millennial Vision	148
Professionalization as Political Discourse and Issues of Control	160
Legitimations and Mediation: The Social Functions of the Public Reports	162
Conclusions	164
6 • Cognitive Educational Sciences as Knowledge and Power	166
Teacher-Thinking Research as State Steering	167
Reification of School Subjects	172
Decontextualization and Reformulation of Knowledge	184
Social Regulation	185
Conclusions	187
7 • Teaching, Teacher Education, and Professionalism: Power Made Invisible	190
Certification to Credentialing: Structuring of Dispositions in Teacher Education	191
Teacher Incentives and Social Regulation	202
Reconstituting the Governing and Regulation of Schooling: The Circulation and Effects of Power in Reworking Democracy	209
Conclusions	215

8 • The Problem of Change and Educational Sciences: Notes on the Relations of Knowledge, Intellectuals, and Social Movements	217
Change, Social Epistemology, and History	218
The State and the Effects of Power	224
What Are Some Options Proposed for Considering the Relation of Researchers and Social Movements?	226
Conclusions	244
Notes	249
References	257
Index	277
About the Author	289