

Contents

---

List of illustrations	ix
A preface to word-taking behavior	xi
A glossary	xvi
Acknowledgements	xxv
Part I Introduction and background
1 Why worry about the economic ideas of ordinary people?	3
Part II The demand for ideas
2 Adam Smith and the Texas A&M rats	17
3 Utility-enhancing consumption constraints	34
4 Ethics and the basis of logic	50
Part III The supply of ideas
5 Adam Smith's 'natural law' and contractual society	65
6 Who monitors the monitors? with Susan Feigenbaum	74
7 Property, justice and judgment	92
Part IV Equilibrium ideas
8 Rational choice in the Homeric epics	109
9 The statistical basis of Athenian and American constitutional theory	135
10 Fame and the supply of heroics	155
Part V A competitive episode: the Malthusian controversy
11 Ricardo and the iron law	177
12 Some normative aspects of the Malthusian controversy	188

---

13	Libertarian communists, Malthusians and J. S. Mill – who is both	197
----	--	-----

Part VI Objections and applications

14	Must one believe to obey?	209
15	S. T. Coleridge replies to Adam Smith's 'pernicious opinion'	214
16	The impossibility of a complete methodological individualist	233
17	Spinoza and the cost of thinking	238
18	The myth of monopoly	247

Notes	257
-------	-----

Index	333
-------	-----

---

Illustrations

---

FIGURES

1	An example of convexity	xvii
2	Three examples of nonconvexity	xxi
1.1	Constraints and optimal solutions	9
2.1	Gains from trade	21
2.2	Gains from grabbing	22
3.1	Household production of $z$ with imperfect information	37
3.2	Household production of $z$ : imperfect information and nonconvexity	39
3.3	Household production of $z$ : imperfect information and moral constraints	44
3.4	Movement in time	46
4.1	A pragmatic test for logical truth	56
4.2	The logical structure of norms	57
6.1	Two austere moralities	83
8.1	Consumption and divine taxation	126
9.1	Desired methods of production (1)	140
9.2	Desired methods of production (2)	141
9.3	Debate at a constitutional level	145
9.4	Desired factor intensity	150
10.1	Two time uses	168
10.2	Division of the corn	169
10.3	Production of approbation	170
11.1	Cost of children and age at marriage	179
11.2	Marginal product of labor and exchange value of corn	182
11.3	Capital accumulation	182
11.4	Labor demand	183
11.5	Equilibrium labor demand	184
11.6	The effect of taxation	185
12.1	The Christian view of extramarital sex	192
12.2	Short-run equilibrium	193

12.3 Long-run equilibrium	193
18.1 Competitive and monopolistic equilibria	249
18.2 An easy choice of trajectories	252
18.3 Costs to attain competitive equilibrium	253
18.4 Two costly trajectories	254

MATRIXES

7.1 Contributions to finance public goods	102
7.2 Judgment about the prisoner's dilemma	103
7.3 Contributions to finance public goods (constrained)	103
7.4 Contributions to finance public goods with a bishop	104

TABLE

8.1 The production of well-being	123
----------------------------------	-----