

Contents

|   |          |
|---|----------|
| List of contributors   | page vii |
| Acknowledgments  | ix       |
| Introduction Jon Elster and John E. Roemer   | 1        |
| 1 The moral basis of interpersonal comparisonsThomas M. Scanlon  | 17       |
| 2 Against the taste model James Griffin  | 45       |
| 3 Utilitarian metaphysics? John Broome   | 70       |
| 4 Local justice and interpersonal comparisonsJon Elster  | 98       |
| 5 Notes on the psychology of utilityDaniel Kahneman and Carol Varey  | 127      |
| 6 Adult-equivalence scales, interpersonal comparisons ofwell-being, and applied welfare economicsCharles Blackorby and David Donaldson | 164      |
| 7 Interpersonal comparisons of utility: Why and howthey are and should be made Peter J. Hammond  | 200      |
| 8 A reconsideration of the Harsanyi–Sen debate onutilitarianism John A. Weymark  | 255      |
| 9 Deducing interpersonal comparisons from localexpertise Ignacio Ortuño-Ortín and John E. Roemer   | 321      |
| 10 Subjective interpersonal comparisonAanund Hylland   | 337      |
| 11 Utilitarian fundamentalism and limited informationC. d'Aspremont and L.A. Gérard-Varet  | 371      |
| Index  | 387      |