

Contents

List of contributors	xi
----------------------	----

PART ONE: INTRODUCTION

1. HOME CARE IN EUROPE: BACKGROUND AND AIMS 3

Anne Jamieson

1. Age Care Research Europe (ACRE)	3
2. Home care in the context of the ACRE framework	6
3. 'Community care' or 'home care'?	6
4. The focus of the book	9
References	12

PART TWO: THE INDIVIDUAL COUNTRIES

2. HOME-CARE SERVICES IN THE FLANDERS, BELGIUM 15

F. Baro, L. Moorthamer, G. De Bruyne, H. Van den Bergh, and K. Magits

1. Introduction: home care in Belgium	15
2. Trends in policies for older people	16
3. The service system in the Flemish region: funding and organization	17
4. Present provision in the Flemish region	18
5. Home-care services in the study area of Groot-Antwerpen	27
6. Allocation of home help/cleaning help	29
Note	36
References	36

3. THE HOME-HELP SERVICE IN DENMARK 38

Bjorn E. Holstein, Pernille Due, Gert Almind, and Erik Holst

1. Home help for elderly people	38
2. The clients of home help	45
3. Decision-making for home help	49
4. Policy implications	59
References	60

4. THE HOME-HELP SERVICE IN ENGLAND AND WALES	63
Robin Lawson and Bleddyn Davies, with Andrew Bebbington
1. Introduction	63
2. The historical development of the service	64
3. The provision of domiciliary help today	69
4. The service in practice	78
5. Ways forward	91
6. Conclusion	96
References	96
5. HOME-CARE SERVICES IN FRANCE	99
Jean-Claude Henrard, Joël Ankri, and Marie-Claude Isnard
1. Historical development of maintien à domicile	99
2. Existing home-care services for elderly people	103
3. Informal support	112
4. Co-ordination	113
5. Conclusion	115
Notes	115
References	115
6. HOME-CARE SERVICES IN THE FEDERAL REPUBLIC OF GERMANY	118
6.1. Development of home-care services and policies for older people	119
Margret Dieck
1. The hierarchy of services and service systems	119
2. The history of the home-care services	119
3. The role of health insurance	122
4. The role of social welfare provision	123
5. Bridging the health and social-services systems: provisions for home care for frail people	124
6. The rationale behind service priorities, service hierarchies, and the inclusion or exclusion of elderly people	125
7. Organization and finance of formal home-care services	127
8. The extent of service provision	129
6.2. Allocation of home care in one federal state: a case study from Berlin (West)	131
Vjenka Garms-Homolová
1. The structure of the study	131

2. The functional capacity and structure of informal support as criteria of need for home help	133
3. Service provision in Berlin	136
4. Allocation and claim mechanisms	143
Notes	152
References	154
7. HOME-CARE SERVICES IN ISRAEL	157
Haim Factor, Brenda Morgenstin, and Denise Naon
1. Introduction	157
2. The development of home-help services	161
3. Provision of services today	164
4. Issues in the delivery of adequate services	169
5. Assessment and discussion of key issues	175
6. Summary	185
Notes	186
Acknowledgements	186
References	186
8. HOME-CARE SERVICES IN ITALY (WITH SPECIAL REFERENCE TO GENOA)	188
Carla Costanzi
1. Italy	188
2. Genoa	190
Notes	209
References	211
9. HOME-CARE SERVICES IN THE NETHERLANDS	213
Wim van den Heuvel and Hans Gerritsen
1. Introduction	213
2. The development of home-help services	214
3. Present provisions of home-help services	217
4. The home-help service and the care of the elderly	220
5. The home-help service in practice	224
6. The effects of policy	230
7. Concluding remarks	233
References	234
PART THREE: HOME CARE FROM A CROSS-NATIONAL PERSPECTIVE
Introduction to Part Three	239

10. HOME-CARE PROVISION AND ALLOCATION	240
Anne Jamieson
1. The aims of provision—the range of possibilities	240
2. The formal policy aims of home care	242
3. Home care in practice: patterns of provision and use of services	248
4. The process of service allocation	261
References	272
11. TRENDS IN HOME-CARE POLICIES	273
Anne Jamieson
1. An assessment of home-care measures	273
2. Past and recent trends	277
3. Factors affecting policies and their implementation	285
4. Conclusions	292
References	295
APPENDICES	297
Appendix 1: Demographic and economic background of the study in Belgium	299
Appendix 2: Background data from Denmark	302
Appendix 3: The pathways study—population and method (Denmark)	310
Appendix 4: Home-help referrals—typical trajectories (Denmark)	312
Appendix 5: Background data from the UK	315
Appendix 6: Background data from France	321
Appendix 7: Background data to the Berlin study	325
Appendix 8: Background data from Israel	328
Appendix 9: Examination of the need for help from others in care of the elderly (Questionnaire) (Israel)	337
Appendix 10: Background data from Italy	340
Appendix 11: A translation of an LIER assessment form (Netherlands)	342
INDEX	345