

Contents

Abbreviations

xv

INTRODUCTORY

- | | |
|---|----|
| 1. Variations, Processes, and Alternatives | 3 |
| 2. Institutions, the State, and Capitalism | 9 |
| 1. Institutions, their Significance and Origins | 9 |
| 2. Corporatism, Capitalism, and the State | 19 |
| 3. Conclusion | 33 |

PART ONE: INDUSTRIALIZATION, DEMOCRATIZATION, AND CLASS ORGANIZATION

- | | |
|---|----|
| 3. The Formation of Labour Movements | 37 |
| 1. LO, TUC, and GFTU | 37 |
| 2. Union Structure and Federation in Sweden | 45 |
| 3. Socialism and Class Organization in Sweden | 50 |
| 4. Socialism and Class Disunity in Britain | 56 |
| 5. The Relative Primacy of Industrial and Political Organization | 60 |
| 6. Conclusion | 67 |
| 4. The Employer Counter-Attack | 73 |
| 1. The Organization of Employers in Britain and
Sweden | 74 |
| 2. Employer Organization and LO Centralization | 76 |
| 3. Employer Centralization, the Economy, and the State | 81 |
| 4. The Labour Challenge | 88 |
| 5. Conclusion | 95 |

PART TWO: TOWARDS CENTRAL REGULATION

5. Towards Joint Central Regulation in Britain	99
1. The Industrial Council of 1911–13	101
2. The Pressures of War	106
3. Joint Regulation Revived	111
4. Class Conflict and Class Organization in the 1920s	115
5. The Role of the State	118
6. The Mond–Turner Talks	123
7. Conclusion	127
6. State Regulation and Joint Central Regulation in Sweden	131
1. From the General Strike to the Labour Peace Conference	132
2. Towards Legal Regulation	136
3. The Basic Agreement and the Centralization of the LO	141
4. The Historic Compromise of the 1930s	144
5. Conclusion	151

PART THREE: INDUSTRIAL CONFLICT, INSTITUTIONS, AND CORPORATISM

7. Institutional Inadequacy, Corporatism, and Industrial Conflict in Post-war Britain	157
1. Industrial Conflict and Inadequate Institutions	158
2. Labour Government, Incomes Policy, and Industrial Relations Reform	165
3. Conservative Government, Industrial Relations Reform, and Incomes Policy	176
4. Labour's Second Chance	181
5. Conclusion	185
8. Institutional Adequacy, Corporatism, and Industrial Conflict in Sweden	187
1. The System of Joint Central Regulation	188

2. The Decline of Central Bargaining	204
3. Conclusion	223

PART FOUR: CAPITALISM, NEO-LIBERALISM, AND SOCIALISM

9. Capitalism and Neo-liberalism in Britain	229
1. Political Polarization in 1970s Britain	229
2. The Conservative Attack on Collectivism	237
3. The Decline of the Unions?	248
4. Conclusion	258
10. Capitalism and Socialism in Sweden	261
1. Post-War Welfare Capitalism	261
2. The Labour Movement Moves to the Left	264
3. The Bourgeois Alternative	285
4. Whither Sweden?	294
5. Conclusion	303

CONCLUSION

11. Summary and Concluding Discussion	309
1. Industrialization, Democratization, and Class Organization	309
2. Towards Central Regulation	314
3. Industrial Conflict, Institutions, and Corporatism	318
4. Capitalism, Neo-Liberalism, and Socialism	324
Appendix: Industrial Disputes in Britain and Sweden	331
Bibliography	335
Index	359