

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Notes on Contributors	ix
Introduction: From People of the Book to People of the Screen Christina Garsten and Helena Wulff	1
1. Living with New (Ideals of) Technology Daniel Miller	7
2. The Computer as a Focus of Inattention: Five Scenarios concerning Hospital Porters Nigel Rapport	25
3. Digital Ditches: Working in the Virtual Grass Roots Sarah Green	45
4. Real-time, Real-place Market: Transnational Connections and Disconnections in Financial Markets Anna Hasselström	69
5. Mobile Workplacng: Office Design, Space and Technology Heinrich Schwarz	91
6. Claiming the Future: Speed, Business Rhetoric and Computer Practice Robert Willim	119
7. Networking as a Form of Life: The Transnational Movement of Internet Pioneers Paula Uimonen	145
8. Mainstream Rebels: Informalization and Regulation in a Virtual World Christina Garsten and David Lerdell	165
9. Steps on Screen: Technoscapes, Visualization and Globalization in Dance Helena Wulff	187

10. Screening the Classroom: Students, Teachers and Computers in an Urban American School	205
William Washabaugh, Catherine Washabaugh, Mary Roffers and Kira Kaufmann
11. Open-Source Software Development as Gift Culture: Work and Identity Formation in an Internet Community	223
Magnus Bergquist
Index	243