

CONTENTS

Editors' Introduction	v
Acknowledgments	vii
1. The Case Study: Differing Perspectives	1
Brief History of the Case Study
in Anthropology and Sociology	2
2. Conflict of Methods	18
3. The Current Debate on the Case Study	28
The Problem of the Theory and of Its Validation	28
A Few Considerations on the Movement
From Local to Global	34
4. The Case Study: Practical Comments and Guidance	40
Definition of the Object of Study	41
Selecting the Ideal Case to Grasp the Object of Study	43
The Wealth of Empirical Materials	45
Problems in the Writing	46
Constructing the Explanation	48
5. Thematic Bibliography for the Case Study	51
Contents of the Thematic Bibliography
for the Case Study	53
A. History of the Case Study Approach:
French and American Schools	53
B. Case Study Approach	60
C. Fieldwork	65
D. On the Micro/Macro Distinction: Local Versus Global	70
E. Description: Problems and Methods	73
F. Supplement	75
About the Authors	77