

CONTENTS

| | |
|---|------------|
| Preface | ix |
| The Arguments: A New Left and the Democratization of Knowledge | 1 |
| I AN EASTERN CHALLENGE TO THE WESTERN LEFT | 17 |
| 1 Encounters in the New Europe | 19 |
| II AT THE HEART OF THE CHALLENGE | 39 |
| 2 Frederick Hayek and the Social-Engineering State | 41 |
| 3 Transformation from Below | 66 |
| 4 The Theory and Politics of Knowledge | 90 |
| III NEW KINDS OF KNOWLEDGE FOR NEW FORMS OF DEMOCRACY | 113 |
| 5 From Social Movement to Self-Management: A Case Study from the Women's Movement | 115 |

| | | |
|---|--|-----|
| 6 | From Grass-Roots Organizing to New Economic Networks | 143 |
| 7 | From Extra-Parliamentary Oppositions to Parties of a New Kind | 190 |
| IV WHY MOVEMENTS MATTER IN THE NEW EUROPE | | 237 |
| 8 | Ending the Cold War | 239 |
| 9 | Conclusions: Transforming Governmentality | 258 |
| | Bibliography and Further Reading | 290 |
| | Directory of International Campaigns, Networks and Newsletters | 297 |
| | Index | 310 |