

Contents

Preface vii

Introduction to the Second Edition 1

Introduction to the First Edition 16

- 1 Some Schools of Social Theory and Philosophy 28
 - Existential phenomenology: Schutz 29
 - Ethnomethodology 39
 - Post-Wittgensteinian philosophy: Winch 50
 - Summary: the significance of interpretative sociologies 57
 - Hermeneutics and critical theory: Gadamer, Apel, Habermas 60
- 2 Agency, Act-identifications and Communicative Intent 77
 - Problems of agency 78
 - Intentions and projects 82
 - The identification of acts 84
 - The rationalization of action 88
 - Meaning and communicative intent 93
- 3 The Production and Reproduction of Social Life 100
 - Order, power, conflict: Durkheim and Parsons 100
 - Order, power, conflict: Marx 106
 - The production of communication as 'meaningful' 110
 - Moral orders of interaction 114

vi Contents

Relations of power in interaction 116
Rationalization and reflexivity 120
The motivation of action 122
The production and reproduction of structure 125
Summary 132

4 The Form of Explanatory Accounts 136

Positivistic dilemmas 138
Later developments: Popper and Kuhn 141
Science and non-science 144
Relativism and hermeneutic analysis 151
The problem of adequacy 155

Conclusion: Some New Rules of Sociological Method 163

Notes 171

Index 179