

Contents

---

---

List of Figures	vii
List of Tables	ix
List of Contributors	xi
Preface	xv
1 Introduction: London and New York in the contemporary world Susan S. Fainstein and Michael Harloe	1
2 A comparative history, 1880–1973 Nick Buck and Norman Fainstein	29
3 Dynamics of the metropolitan economy Nick Buck, Matthew Drennan, and Kenneth Newton	68
4 Restructuring the urban labor markets Ian Gordon and Saskia Sassen	105
5 Poverty and income inequality John Logan, Peter Taylor-Gooby, and Monika Reuter	129
6 Migrants, minorities, and the ethnic division of labor Malcolm Cross and Roger Waldinger	151
7 Housing for people, housing for profits Michael Harloe, Peter Marcuse, and Neil Smith	175
8 Politics and state policy in economic restructuring Susan S. Fainstein and Ken Young	203

9	Conclusion: The divided cities Michael Harloe and Susan S. Fainstein	236
	Bibliography	269
	Index	287

Figures

---

---

1.1	The London region	23
1.2	The New York region	26

Tables

---

---

1.1	Greater London population	24
1.2	New York City population	27
3.1	The employment structures of London and New York	77
3.2	Employment by industry: London region, 1987	79
3.3	Employment by industry, New York region, 1987	80
3.4	Employment change in the London region, 1971–1989	83
3.5	London region employment change by major industry divisions	86
3.6	Employment by broad groups, New York City and region, 1969 and 1988	91
3.7	Total employment change, New York region	93
4.1	Employment characteristics of expanding and contracting sectors in the London region	111
4.2	Hourly pay and turnover rates for expanding and contracting sectors in London	119
5.1	Inequalities in household income in London and New York, 1977–1988	131
5.2	Changes in real household income for different racial groups, New York	133
6.1	Immigration, United States and New York City, 1966–1987	153
6.2	Estimated ethnic minority population in Greater London, 1986	159
6.3	Changes in employment for ethnic groups, New York City, 1970–1980	163
6.4	Changes in job configuration, London 1971–1981	166
7.1	Comparison of housing markets	178

7.2	Rent/income ratios in New York City and London	181
7.3	Housing production in the 1980s, London and New York	184
7.4	New York City housing plan, 1986–1995	196