

Introduction

Barbara Czarniawska and Guje Sevón	1
On “Scandinavian Institutionalism”	3
Constructionism in Studies of Science and Technology	5
The Contents of the Volume	8
Travels of Ideas
Barbara Czarniawska and Bernward Joerges	13
Received Images of Change	14
When Ideas Go Places	16
Public Administration Reforms	17
Development Projects and Technology	18
Vehicles/Metaphors	19
On Ideas	19
Local and Global and Their Relation to Time/Space; Particular/ Universal; Micro/Macro	20
Translation	23
Fashion/Institution	24
An Idea Is Objectified	26
Attention as a Social Product	27
Social Context	29
Ideological Control	30
Public Attention	31
Selected Ideas Translated into Objects	32
An Idea Travels	34
Fashion Revisited	34
Between Fashions and Institutions: Master-Ideas	36
Institutionalization	37

An Idea Is Enacted	39
Ideas onto Actions	39
Ideas into Actions	40
Some Complications Introduced...	41
An Idea Whose Time/Space Has Come	44
Ideas and Change	45
Contingency and Control	45
Explanations and Interpretations	47
 Organizational Imitation in Identity Transformation
Guje Sevón	49
Ostensive and Performative Definitions of Imitation	50
Elements in the Imitation Process	52
Selective Attention in Organizational Imitation	53
Organizational Self-Identification: What Am I Like?	57
Imitation of Desires: What Would I Like to Be?	59
Reasoning About Appropriate Action: Analogical Thinking	61
Identifying with and Imitating Non-Human Actors	61
Agents of Organizational Imitation	64
Concluding Remarks	66
 Imitating by Editing Success: The Construction of Organizational Fields
Kerstin Sahlin-Andersson	69
Are Organizations Becoming Increasingly Similar?	69
Local Constructions of Problems	71
Organizational Identities Are Derived from Organizational Fields	72
Identity Crisis Leads to Imitation	75
Imitating Success	78
The Editing of Success	82
Editors	83

Editing Rules	85
Editing Rules Concerning Context	85
Editing Rules Concerning Formulation	87
Editing Rules Concerning Logic	87
The Construction of a New Identity	88
Institutional Isomorphism and Organizational Heterogeneity	91
The Logic of Organizational Transformation: On the Conversion of Non-Business Organizations
Anders Forssell and David Jansson	93
Organizational Transformation and Corporatization	93
A Social Stock of Organizational Knowledge	93
Institutionalized Forms of Organization	95
Institutionalized Forms of Activity	98
Organizations as Instruments	99
A Logic of Organizational Transformation	100
First Case: The Savings Banks	101
Conclusion	105
Second Case: The Swedish Railways	105
Conclusion	108
Third Case: A Local Government	108
Conclusion	112
Summary: An Institutional Logic in Play	113
A Note on Ideas that Travel	115
Technical and Aesthetic Fashion
Eric Abrahamson	117
What Explains the Unfashionability of Managerial Fashion?	118
Norms of Rationality and Progress	122
Fashion-Setting Communities	123

The Supply of Management Fashion	125
Procurement	127
Fashioning	128
Marketing	130
The Demand for Management Fashion	130
Socio-Psychological Explanations of Fashion Demand	131
Technico-Economic Explanations of Fashion Demand	134
What Is the Scope of Management Fashion	136
Conclusion	137
Deinstitutionalization and the Logic of Fashion
Kjell-Arne Røvik	139
An Observed Phenomenon	139
Institutionalized Standards Travel in Time and Space	141
New Institutionalism and Deinstitutionalization	143
Competing Theoretical Explanations of Deinstitutionalization	144
Deinstitutionalization as Adaptation and Selection	146
What Triggers the Process	146
The Development of the Deinstitutionalization Process	147
Handling of Technically Inefficient Solutions	148
Deinstitutionalization as Unlearning and Natural Rejection	148
What Triggers the Process	150
The Development of the Deinstitutionalization Process	151
Handling of Inappropriate Prescriptions	152
The Fashion Perspective	152
Fashion as a Socially Constructed Reality	153
Fashion Is a Human Creation	154
Fashion Is Objectified	154
Fashion Is Internalized	154
The Dynamic Character of Fashion	155
Fashion as a Mechanism of Change at the Individual Level	155
Fashion as a Mechanism of Change at the Group Level	156
Fashion's Cyclical Nature	157
Deinstitutionalization as a Process of Becoming Unfashionable	158
What Triggers the Process	159
The Development of the Deinstitutionalization Process	160

The Roll-Back Process	161
Handling of Obsolete, Unfashionable Prescriptions	161
Storage	163
Contrasting the Three Perspectives	164
Organizational Fashion: Sources for a Theory	165
Classic Fashion Theory	165
New Institutional Theory with Implicit Tenets from the Logic of Fashion	169
Organization Theory with Sporadic References to Fashion	170
Toward the Increasing Relevance of Fashion on Organizational Analysis	171
Global Transformations
Tony Spytbey	173
Dimensions to Globalization	178
Transformations in the Global Context	183
Change in Social Organization	187
When Organization Travels: On Intercultural Translation
Richard Rottenburg	191
Prologue	191
Mimetic Organizational Isomorphism	192
The Story of the Lake Transport Company	197
Established Explanations	202
Formal Systems and Informal Networks	202
Bureaucracy and Gift Exchange	203
Bureaucracy and Patronage	206
A Fresh Vocabulary	209
Formal Organization and Modernity	209
Translation and Accretion	213
Politico-Cultural Translation	216
The Story of the Lake Transport Company Retold	220
An Outside Political Influence	221
The Inevitable Recovery of Patronage	223
Political Translations	227
Patron Managers and Client Employees	229

Interjection	232
Façades/Practices	232
Formal Structure as Ceremonial Façade	233
Ceremonial Façades and Practice	235
Otherhood:
The Promulgation and Transmission of Ideas in the Modern Organizational Environment
John W. Meyer	241
The Soft Actor	243
Actors and Others	244
The Organizational Stratification System	245
Associational Structures	246
Social Movements	246
Sciences and Professions	247
The Joys of Rationalized Otherhood	247
The Modern Credence	247
The Cultural Character of Organizing Ideas	248
Types of Ideas	250
An Implication	251
Conclusion	252
References	253
On the Authors	273
Index	277