2.2	Outline of semi-structured interview agenda (SSI 1985)	31
2.3	Outline of reinterview questionnaire (RIQ 1988)	34
3.1	Growth of the typical firm	52
4.1	Production function estimates	64
5.1	Questions used to generate rankings data	76
5.2	Test statistics and probability levels	76
5.3	Orderings by Rank-Sum ( $R_j$ ) of options in table 5.1	77
6.1	Age, size, and products for seven profiles	84
7.1	Main characteristics of firms A to G	122
7.2	Checklist for fragmented markets	125
8.1	Industrial balance amongst firms A to G	136
8.2	SBEs' products and possible uses in customers' products	143
8.3	Static and dynamic scale effects for firms A to G	149
9.1	Definitions of variables used in probit equations	163
9.2	Binary probit for full set of control variables	167
9.3	Binary probit for sub-set of control variables	168
9.4	Binary probit for sub-set of 'objective' variables	169
10.1	Descriptive statistics on SBEs' perceptions of rivals' price responses	182
10.2	Ordered probit estimates of the probability that a firm believes its rivals will react to its price changes	183
10.3	Diagnostic tests of the preferred specification	185
10.4	Probits for SBEs with at least some strategic interaction	186
11.1	Joint distribution of age and employment	192
