

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	1
 Part I: Feminism As Against Epistemology?
1. Social Criticism without Philosophy: An Encounter between Feminism and Postmodernism Nancy Fraser and Linda J. Nicholson	19
2. Postmodernism and Gender Relations in Feminist Theory Jane Flax	39
3. Dilemmas of Difference: Feminism, Modernity, and Postmodernism Christine Di Stefano	63
4. Feminism, Science, and the Anti-Enlightenment Critiques Sandra Harding	83
5. Epistemologies of Postmodernism: A Rejoinder to Jean-François Lyotard Seyla Benhabib	107
 Part II: The Politics of Location
6. Feminism, Postmodernism, and Gender-Scepticism Susan Bordo	133
7. Foucault on Power: A Theory for Women? Nancy Hartsock	157

8.	Travels in the Postmodern: Making Sense of the Local Elspeth Probyn	176
9.	A Manifesto for Cyborgs: Science, Technology, and Socialist Feminism in the 1980s Donna Haraway	190
10.	Mapping the Postmodern Andreas Huyssen	234
Part III: Identity and Differentiation
11.	A Feminist Theory of Social Differentiation Anna Yeatman	281
12.	The Ideal of Community and the Politics of Difference Iris Marion Young	300
13.	Gender Trouble, Feminist Theory, and Psychoanalytic Discourse Judith Butler	324
	Index	341
	Contributors	346