

CONTENTS

| | |
|--|------------|
| Preface to the Second Edition | ix |
| PART I INTRODUCTION | 1 |
| 1 What's wrong with theory and why we still need it | 3 |
| 2 Cutting a path through the jungle | 15 |
| PART II THEORIES OF SOCIAL ACTION | 33 |
| INTRODUCTION | 35 |
| 3 Parsons: Theory as a filing system | 37 |
| I: Structural-functionalism | 37 |
| II: Neofunctionalism and conflict theory | 56 |
| 4 Rational choice theory: 'The price of everything . . . | 69 |
| 5 Symbolic interactionism: Society as conversation | 85 |
| 6 Society as a conspiracy: Phenomenological sociology and ethnomethodology | 97 |
| 7 Structuration theory: There is no such thing as society; there is such a thing as society | 111 |
| PART III FROM ACTION TO STRUCTURE | 125 |
| INTRODUCTION | 127 |
| 8 The world as a logical pattern: An introduction to structuralism | 131 |

| | | |
|---|---|------------|
| 9 | Structuralist Marxism: The world as a puppet theatre | 149 |
| 10 | Post-structuralism and postmodernism: The world gone mad | 177 |
| PART IV FROM STRUCTURE OR ACTION TO STRUCTURE AND ACTION | | 197 |
| | INTRODUCTION | 199 |
| 11 | The Frankfurt School: There must be some way out of here | 203 |
| 12 | Jürgen Habermas: Back to the filing cabinet | 231 |
| | Conclusion: Playing with ideas | 247 |
| | Index | 259 |