

Contents

Series Editors' Introduction vii

Preface xi

- 1. The Context of Remarried Families 1
 - Studying Close Relationships in Remarried Families 4
 - A Brief History of the Study of Remarried Families 10
 - The Study of Remarried Families Prior to 1980 11
 - The Study of Remarried Families in the 1980s 14
 - Overall Development of a Field of Study 20
- 2. Paths to Remarried Family Life 24
 - Postdivorce 27
 - Postbereavement 32
 - Never-Married Parents 33
 - Who Remarries? A Profile of Remarriages 34
- 3. Remarriage Relationships 41
 - Courtship for Remarriage 42

Remarriage Stability and Quality	51
Remarriage Dynamics	63
4. Stepparent-Stepchild Relationships	69
Residential and Nonresidential Stepparents	70
Models for Stepparenting	72
Stepmother-Stepchild Relationships	77
Stepfather-Stepchild Relationships	82
Child Abuse in Stepfamilies	86
5. Other Stepfamily Relationships	91
Parent-Child Relationships	92
Siblings, Stepsiblings, and Half-Siblings	100
Former Spouse Relationships	108
Grandparents	113
Stepgrandparents	116
6. Clinical and Developmental Perspectives	120
Clinical Perspectives	121
Stepfamily Development	140
Models of Stepfamily Development	140
7. Epilogue: The Study of Remarried Families in the 1990s	148
References	154
Name Index	172
Subject Index	178
About the Authors	182