

Contents

Foreword	v
Contributors	ix
Tables and figures	xi
1. Introduction	1
by Ulrich Mückenberger
2. Social rights and the market	17
by Simon Deakin
3. Social citizenship rights in Central and Eastern Europe	41
by Csilla Kollonay Lehoczky
4. Affective bonds, labour law, and Social Europe	73
by Yota Kravaritou
5. Institutional reform and social and labour policy ..	101
by Brian Bercusson
6. Strengthening Social Europe via benchmarking ..	129
by Reiner Hoffmann
7. The future of the European Employment Strategy	151
by Janine Goetschy
8. The need for fundamental social rights	177
by Bruno Veneziani

9. Fundamental trade union rights	207
by Brian Bercusson
10. Gender equality and Community law	255
by Éliane Vogel-Polsky
11. Gender mainstreaming	269
by Ulrich Mückenberger
12. The process of European integration in matters of social security: principles, goals, and means	289
by Antonio Ojeda Avilés
13. A future European employment model?	311
by Pertti Koistinen
14. Conclusion: beyond Nice – no social agenda without a constitution	345
by Ulrich Mückenberger, Brian Bercusson, Simon Deakin, Janine Goetschy, Reiner Hoffmann, Pertti Koistinen, Yota Kravaritou, Csilla Kollonay Lehoczky, Antonio Ojeda Avilés, Bruno Veneziani, and Éliane Vogel-Polsky
Manifesto for Social Europe 2000	359
References	385