

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Foreword .....	3
Introduction by Sergio Arzeni, Head of the LEED Programme .....	13
The LEED Programme .....	13
Overview of the issues .....	16
The way ahead .....	18

Part I

GENERAL STUDIES

Chapter 1. Learning-by-Monitoring: The Dilemmas of Regional Economic Policy in Europe
By Charles Sabel, Professor at Columbia Law School, New York (United States)	23
Abstract .....	23
Surprising successes and chastening surprises .....	24
Backing into the future .....	28
Co-ordinating decentralisation: learning-by-monitoring .....	30
The diffusion of the new industrial disciplines: the end of the old dualisms? .....	35
Regionalised economic policy as experimental regionalism .....	41
Notes .....	48
Bibliography .....	49
Chapter 2. Learning-by-interacting: Inter-Firm Networks and Enterprise Support
By Kevin Morgan, Professor, Department of City and Regional Planning, University of Wales in Cardiff (United Kingdom) .....	53
Introduction .....	53
How firms learn: interactive learning and inter-firm networks .....	55
Government as interlocutor: the public policy challenge .....	59
Bibliography .....	65

Chapter 3. Regional Productive Systems and Innovative Milieux
By Denis Maillat, Professor and Director of IRER, Institut de Recherches Économiques et Régionales, Université de Neuchâtel (Switzerland) . . . . .	67
Local productive systems . . . . .	68
Conceptual diversity . . . . .	68
Dynamics of the local productive system . . . . .	71
Features of the milieu . . . . .	72
Innovative milieu and territorial resources . . . . .	73
Innovative milieux and innovation networks . . . . .	74
Innovative milieux and development policy . . . . .	76
Bibliography . . . . .	78
Chapter 4. Local Productive Systems and Structural Change
By Alvaro Espina, Adviser, General Directorate of Political Economy, Ministry of Economics and Finance, Madrid (Spain) . . . . .	81
Introduction . . . . .	81
Small and medium-sized family enterprises and local productive systems . . . . .	81
Schumpeterian firms and innovating firms . . . . .	85
The contagion effect: the transfer of competitive advantages between vectors . . . . .	86
Notes . . . . .	88
Bibliography . . . . .	89
Chapter 5. Local Systems of Small Firms in the OECD Area, Facing Economic Globalisation
By Pierre-Noël Giraud, Centre d'Économie Industrielle (CERNA), École Nationale Supérieure des Mines de Paris (France) . . . . .	91
Two economic logics in today's global economy . . . . .	91
Forms of competition sustainable by industrial districts . . . . .	94
Implications for economic policy . . . . .	96
Bibliography . . . . .	96

Part II

COUNTRY STUDIES

Chapter 6. Italy: A – Local Systems of Small and Medium-Sized Firms and Industrial Changes
By Fabio Sforzi, Professor, University of Urbino, and Researcher IRPET, Florence (Italy) . . . . .	99

Introduction .....	99
The local system as an integrated production unit .....	100
The local systems of firms in Italy .....	101
The industrial changeover in the 1980s .....	105
Some final considerations .....	109
Notes .....	110
Bibliography .....	111
 Chapter 6. Italy: B – Trust, Social Capital and Local Development: Some Lessons from the Experience of the Italian Districts
By Sebastiano Brusco, Professor, Department of Industrial Economics, University of Modena (Italy) .....	115
More jobs and higher wages in central-northern Italy .....	115
Lessons from the Italian experience .....	116
The role of institutions .....	118
Bibliography .....	119
 Chapter 6. Italy: C – The Italian Club of Industrial Districts
By Andrea Balestri, Unione Industriale Pratese, Prato (Italy) .....	121
 Chapter 7. Spain: A – Industrial Organisation of Local Systems of SMEs
By Maria Teresa Costa Campi, Professor, University of Barcelona, and Researcher at the CEP, Centre d'Estudis de Planificacio, Barcelona (Spain) .....	125
Introduction .....	125
Proposals for a new industrial policy .....	127
Notes .....	130
Annex .....	131
Bibliography .....	132
 Chapter 7. Spain: B – Enterprise Support Structures: the Valencian Region Model
By Francisco Mas, Director of Planning, IMPIVA, Institute for Small and Medium-Sized Firms, Valencia (Spain) .....	133
Industrial policy and business services .....	133
Support structures for small and medium-sized firms in Spain .....	136
Case study: the Valencian model of regional industrial policy (1985-94) .....	141
Conclusion .....	145
Notes .....	147

Chapter 8. United Kingdom: A – The Business Links Programme

By David Grayson, Managing Director of the Business Strategy Group, Business in the Community, London (United Kingdom) . . . . . 149

Introduction . . . . . 149

Business links and networking . . . . . 151

Chapter 8. United Kingdom: B – A Consideration of Enterprise Support Policies in Wales

By Kevin Morgan, Professor, Department of City and Regional Planning, University of Wales in Cardiff (United Kingdom) . . . . . 153

Business links . . . . . 153

The Welsh Development Agency (WDA) . . . . . 155

Bibliography . . . . . 158

Chapter 9. Austria: Industrial Clusters

By Austrian Institute for Regional Studies and Spatial Planning . . . . . 159

Introduction . . . . . 159

Austrian clusters . . . . . 160

Technology clusters . . . . . 160

Geographical clusters . . . . . 161

Case studies . . . . . 161

Industrial clusters in regional and SME policy . . . . . 165

Bibliography . . . . . 167

Chapter 10. Finland: A History of Networking

By Kalle J. Korhonen, Head of Division, Business and Development Department, Ministry of Trade and Industry, Helsinki (Finland) . . . . . 169

Management development groups (1970-1980s) . . . . . 169

Partnerlink-activity (1980s) . . . . . 169

New trends in promoting firm co-operation (1980s-1990s) . . . . . 170

Evaluation of company co-operation projects . . . . . 170

Consideration of experience with SME policy measures . . . . . 172

Chapter 11. Netherlands: The Flower-Growing District of Keukenhof

By Joop Zwetsloot, member of the Chief Executive Office, Hobaho Horeti Groep, Lisse (Netherlands) . . . . . 175

Introduction . . . . . 175

Keukenhof, a growing district . . . . . 176

What are the threats to this cluster? . . . . . 177

Chapter 12. United States: Business Clusters

*By Stuart A. Rosenfeld, Director, Regional Technology Strategies, Inc.,
Chapel Hill, North Carolina (United States)* . . . . . 179

I. Strategies and synergies . . . . . 179

    Clusters, American style . . . . . 180

    Inside US clusters . . . . . 183

    Tupelo's furniture – a reluctant but realised cluster . . . . . 184

    Silicon Valley's electronics – a revitalised, adaptive cluster . . . . . 186

    The Catawba Valley's hosiery – a newly appreciated and animated cluster . . . . . 187

    North Carolina's environmental technologies – collected and eclectic . . . . . 190

    Special features of US clusters . . . . . 192

    Clusters in review . . . . . 195

II. Systems of support for SMEs . . . . . 195

    Building a national system . . . . . 195

    State responsibilities and national aims . . . . . 197

    Two cases in point . . . . . 198

    Industrial services in the new political climate . . . . . 200

Bibliography . . . . . 201

Chapter 13. Australia: The Evolving Structure and Strategies of Business Networks

*By Ian Bickerdyke, Principal Economist, Bureau of Industry Economics,
Canberra (Australia)* . . . . . 203

Introduction . . . . . 203

The emergence of networks in Australia . . . . . 203

What types of firms are using networks? . . . . . 205

The structure of networks in Australia . . . . . 207

Networking strategies and benefits . . . . . 211

How do Australian firms benefit from networks? . . . . . 212

Conclusion . . . . . 215

Notes . . . . . 216

Bibliography . . . . . 216

Chapter 14. New Zealand: The Internationalisation of Competition and the Emergence of Networks

By Ifor Ffwocs Williams, General Manager, Strategic Development Unit, TRADENZ, New Zealand Trade Development Board, Wellington (New Zealand) . . . 217

New Zealand's internationalising economy . . . . . 217

Introducing Tradenz . . . . . 218

Case study: hard business network programme in Christchurch . . . . . 220

Scaling up to a national programme . . . . . 223

Chapter 15. The Dynamic Asian Economies: Local Systems of SMEs and Internationalisation

By Philippe Regnier, Director of the Modern Asia Research Centre in Geneva (Switzerland) . . . . . 225

Introduction . . . . . 225

The Japanese "model": differentiated SME systems . . . . . 225

Recent developments . . . . . 226

SME production systems and the internationalisation of Asia's four tigers . . . . . 228

Coastal China: economic reforms and the dynamism of "rural" SMEs . . . . . 232

Notes . . . . . 234

Bibliography . . . . . 235

Part III

CONCLUSION

Chapter 16. The Territorialisation of Public Policies: the Role of Public Governance and Funding

By Chris Humphries, Director of Policy and Strategy, Training Enterprise Council, National Council, London (United Kingdom) . . . . . 239

Introduction . . . . . 239

Developing a networking culture . . . . . 241

Role of strategic partnership bodies . . . . . 242

Local business support systems . . . . . 245

Role of national policy in economic development . . . . . 248

Role of public funding . . . . . 249

Conclusion . . . . . 253

Bibliography . . . . . 254