

Contents

Figures and tables	viii
Preface by Michael Scott	xi
Introduction
1. Entrepreneurship and small businesses in Europe - economic background and academic infrastructure Hermann Frank and Hans Landström	1
Austria
2. Research into entrepreneurship and small business in Austria Josef Mugler	14
Belgium
3. Entrepreneurship and small business research by Belgian researchers Rik Donckels, Johan Lambrecht and Ria Aerts	26
Denmark
4. How entrepreneurial is the research into small business and entrepreneurship in Denmark? Poul Rind Christensen and Lene Axelsson	51
Finland
5. Entrepreneurship and small business research in Finland Pasi Malinen and Antti Paasio	69
France
6. Entrepreneurship and small business research in France: a review of the present literature Bertrand Saporta and Martine Rispal	86

	Germany
7.	State of the art of entrepreneurship and SME research and education in Germany Heinz Klandt	112
	Hungary
8.	Entrepreneurship and small business research in Hungary Zoltán Román	138
	Ireland
9.	Entrepreneurship research and the Emerald Isle - a review of small business studies in the Republic of Ireland Dylan Jones-Evans	152
	Italy
10.	Patterns of entrepreneurial research in Italy: locational factors, intangible assets and development of the new firm Chiara Cardini and Andrea Fumagalli	175
	the Netherlands
11.	Entrepreneurship and small business management in a Dutch environment W.E. Daring, M. Kerkhof, R.J.A. Klein Woolthuis and J.M.J. de Smit	200
	Norway
12.	Research on entrepreneurship and small business in Norway Olav R. Spilling	226
	Slovenia
13.	Entrepreneurship and small business research in Slovenia Miroslav Rebernik and Dijana Mocnik	250
	Spain
14.	Entrepreneurship and small business research in Spain José M. Veciana and Enric Genescà	263
	Sweden
15.	Research in entrepreneurship and small business - state of the art in Sweden Bengt Johannisson and Hans Landström	276

	Switzerland
16.	SME research in Switzerland Ulrich Aschoff	296
	the UK
17.	Entrepreneurship and small business research in the 1990s - a UK perspective Peter Rosa	307
	Two European research programmes
x	18. INTERSTRATOS - a pioneering project on internationalisation of SMEs in Europe Rik Donckels, Antti J. Haahti and J. Hanns Pichler	334
x	19. The European Observatory for SMEs Karin de Lind van Wijngaarden and Rob van der Horst	363
	Conclusion
x	20. Entrepreneurship and small business research in Europe - analysis and reflections Hermann Frank and Hans Landström	382

Figures and tables

Figure 4.1	Major research themes in the 1990s. Linkages and roots in past research	55
Figure 7.1	Reference frame of entrepreneurship research	117
Figure 7.2	Views of research	123
Figure 7.3	Methods of empirical research	125
Figure 7.4	Requirements on empirical-theoretical statements	127
Figure 13.1	The basic framework of entrepreneurship process	253
Figure 13.2	Shifts needed in entrepreneurship and SME research in Slovenia	260
Figure 19.1	Organisation of the project	365
Figure 19.2	General structure of the Annual Reports	369
Figure 19.3	Development of employment in very small, small, medium-sized and large enterprises, Europe-19, 1988-1997	377
Figure 19.4	Performance of SMEs, 1988-1995	378
Table 1.1	Chairs in entrepreneurship and small business	7
Table 3.1	Number of articles by theme and journal in 1990-1995	29
Table 3.2	Number of books and research reports by theme in 1990-1995	37
Table 5.1	Characteristics of Finnish companies in 1993	70
Table 5.2	Universities in Finland that carry out research in entrepreneurship, by their emphasis on different areas	72
Table 5.3	Methodology of Finnish dissertations in the field of entrepreneurship and SMEs	76
Table 7.1	Objects of research	118
Table 7.2	Entrepreneur and micro-social environment	119
Table 7.3	Structure of enterprise	120

Table 7.4	Process of enterprise	120
Table 7.5	Environment: general context	121
Table 7.6	Environment: special infrastructure	121
Table 7.7	Success/performance	122
Table 7.8	Views of research	124
Table 7.9	Data collection techniques	126
Table 7.10	Size of sample	128
Table 7.11	Number of variables	128
Table 7.12	Relations	129
Table 7.13	Feedback	129
Table 7.14	Documentation	130
Table 8.1	Number of enterprises	139
Table 8.2	Employment distribution by enterprise size-classes, at the end of 1989-1994	140
Table 9.1	Entrepreneurship studies in Ireland 1973-1995	161
Table 9.2	Entrepreneurship and small business research in Ireland 1973-1995	164
Table 9.3	Ph.D. dissertations in entrepreneurship and small business research in Ireland	165
Table 11.1	Research topics in management journals	202
Table 11.2	Entrepreneurial interests	203
Table 11.3	Topics of the Economic Institute for SMEs	205
Table 11.4	Management priorities of highly innovative firms	206
Table 11.5	Factors influencing entrepreneurial behaviour	211
Table 12.1	Distribution of Norwegian references in entrepreneurship and SME research	239
Table 13.1	Overview of institutions involved in research and education in Slovenia	252
Table 13.2	Overview of references considered in bibliographic units	258
Table 14.1	Research topics	267
Table 14.2	Research design	271
Table 14.3	Main research centres/universities	273
Table 14.4	Main journals	274
Table 14.5	Research topics (trends)	275
Table 15.1	Level of analysis and research questions addressed	283
Table 15.2	Theoretical approaches	285
Table 15.3	Research design	287
Table 17.1	UK articles published in the ISBJ in the 1990s by subject area	318
Table 18.1	The variables in the model	337
Table 18.2	INTERSTRATOS sample by size, class and country	343

Table 18.3	Attitudes toward the statement: “The government should not restrict competition even through the use of incentives”, by country	346
Table 18.4	Attitudes toward the statement: “Managers should plan rather than follow their intuition”, by country and size class	347
Table 18.5	Attitudes toward the statement: “Firms should only introduce proven office procedures and production techniques”, by country	348
Table 18.6	Attitudes toward the statement: “In family-owned business the management should stay in the hands of the family”, by type of business	349
Table 18.7	Attitudes toward the statement: “Businesses should take precedence over family life”, by country and size class	350
Table 18.8	Value based clusters or fundamental types of entrepreneurs by industry, country and size class	352
Table 18.9	Selected success factors	353
Table 18.10	Extent of export and of information use	355
Table 19.1	Themes of the First, Second, Third and Fourth Annual Report	371
Table 19.2	Size and structure of non-primary private enterprises in the European Economic Area and Switzerland, 1995	376