

CONTENTS

Abbreviations xi

Acknowledgements xii

Foreword: The Primacy of Politics *xiii

Mario Soares

1 Achieving the First Revolution of the Twenty-first Century 1

More than a democratic reconquest of information and financial disarmament 5

*The basic meaning of the 'water revolution':
a right to life for all 6*

We don't have time to wait until the year 2030 12

The fundamental questions 21

The incomplete explanation of the 'water crisis' 27

2 The Obstacle: the Lords of Water 33

Warlords 38

Money lords 49

Technology lords 76

3 Building a Different Future 83

The World Water Contract 85

The three critical situations we face 86

Towards the World Water Contract 88

The founding principle: water as a common good 91

Principal objectives 93

The priority targets 98

Making a reality of all this: what needs to be done 101

4 Conclusions 107

The hour of democracy and solidarity 109

The Water Manifesto: a Summary 111

Notes 115

Appendices 124

International Organizations Specializing in Water-related Issues 124

United Nations Bodies Active in Relation to Water 125

Index 126

List of Tables and Figures

1. Main conferences on water in 1997-2000 24
2. Main declarations concerning water (1990s) 25
3. Some major armed conflicts over water 40
4. Examples of inter-state conflicts related to water 41
5. The globalization of a water company: the case of La Lyonnaise 69
6. Abstraction, purification and distribution of water:
forms of management in the 12 EU member states, 1992 72
7. World water problem: the three most critical situations 89